Teaching Film

LUCY FISCHER and PATRICE PETRO, eds.

“An invaluable resource not only for those new to teaching film but for those of us who have been working in the discipline for a long time and have grappled with many of the same issues addressed here.”
—Pamela Robertson Wojcik, University of Notre Dame

Film studies has been a part of higher education curricula in the United States almost since the development of the medium.

Given the dynamism of the field, experienced and beginning instructors alike need resources for bringing the study of film into the classroom.

This volume will help instructors conceptualize contemporary film studies in pedagogical terms.
