Drawing on tourist literature, travelogues, and local-color fiction about the South, Bill Hardwig tracks the ways in which the nation’s leading interdisciplinary periodicals translated and broadcast the predominant narratives about the late-nineteenth-century South.

In addition to offering a narrative of the formative dialogue between black transnationalism and U.S. international diplomacy, Artistic Ambassadors also illuminates a broader literary culture that reached both black and white America as well as the black diaspora and the wider world of people of color.

In an original contribution to the psychoanalytic approach to literature, Doreen Fowler focuses on the fiction of four major American writers to examine the father’s function as a “border figure.”

In Women’s Work, Courtney Thorsson reconsiders the gender, genre, and geography of African American nationalism as she explores the aesthetic history of African American writing by women.

A LARGE-PRINT EDITION IS ALSO AVAILABLE.
Film studies has been a part of higher education curricula in the United States almost since the development of the medium.

Given the interdisciplinary and expansive nature of the field, experienced and beginning instructors alike need resources for bringing the study of film into the classroom.

This volume will help instructors conceptualize contemporary film studies in pedagogical terms.
“A book that is exciting, fresh, and more ambitious and synthetic than any previous effort to explore contact narratives.”—SHELLEY FISHER FISHKIN, Director of the American Studies Program, Stanford University

“In Search of First Contact contributes a great deal to scholarly knowledge of the Vinland narratives…. Kolodny’s exposition of the sagas is absolutely superb. This is an outstanding and important work.”—ROBERT WARRIOR, author of The People and the Word: Reading Native Nonfiction

“In Search of First Contact is a tour de force…. Kolodny brings a penetrating perspective to bear on the notion of first contact and what it might have meant both to Native Americans and to the Norse. This brilliantly written book is bound to become a classic.”—BIRGITTA LINDEROTH WALLACE, archaeologist and author of Westward Vikings: The Saga of L’Anse aux Meadows
