THE ESSENTIAL CLARENCE MAJOR

Prose and Poetry

Clarence Major

Foreword by Kia Corthron

"This is an invaluable aid in the teaching of mid-twentieth-century African American poetry and fiction and will provide a tool for students of African American letters to grapple with his work as a whole."

—Randall Kenan, editor of The Cross of Redemption
392 pages $23.00 paper

BLIND JOE DEATH'S AMERICA

*John Fahey, the Blues, and Writing
White Discontent*

George Henderson

"A fascinating read. Henderson shows us how Fahey's complicated position in his writing, both satirical and serious, opens up an important discussion of the racial commitments, investments, and intimacies of the 1950s and '60s folk revival's 'love and theft' dynamics."

—Sonnet Retman,
University of Washington.
240 pages $27.95 paper

THE PERFECTING OF NATURE

Reforming Bodies in Antebellum Literature

Josh Doty

"This book promises to make an important intervention in work being done at the intersection of literature, the medical humanities, and the history of science."

—Matthew Rebirthorn,
James Madison University

RACE CHARACTERS

Ethnic Literature and the Figure of the American Dream

Swati Rana

"Rana brilliantly breaks open the problem of the American dream as it relates to character. This is an incandescent melding of narratological analysis, literary criticism, and comparative race studies."

—Stephen Hong Sohn,
University of California, Riverside
272 pages $29.95 paper

LYRICAL STRAINS

Liberalism and Women's Poetry in Nineteenth-Century America

Elissa Zellinger

"A fresh and radical intervention in a field that has been grappling with these questions for nearly two decades. By linking the history of the creation of the liberal self to women's lyric production, Zellinger boldly intervenes in a variety of arguments about genre and gender in ways that will continue to shape the field."

—Alexandra Socarides,
University of Missouri
272 pages $29.95 paper

MINING LANGUAGE

Racial Thinking, Indigenous Knowledge, and Colonial Metallurgy in the Early Modern Iberian World

Allison Margaret Bigelow

"This important book, as erudite as it is methodologically creative, forces us to think in new ways about the relationship between colonialism, epistemology, and race."

—Marcy Norton,
University of Pennsylvania
Published by the Omohundro Institute of Early American History and Culture
376 pages $39.95
