An Editorial Note

boundary 2 has added a web page to supplement its efforts in print. We invite readers to visit <http://boundary2.org/> for information about the journal, the editors' work and speaking appearances, and to read materials not in the print edition. We hope to have our readers' comments and advice as we try to develop exchanges over the issues that matter to our audience and contributors. The web page is very much a work in progress, so we ask for patience as well as help in its development.—Ed.

Call for Papers

“Poets and Poetry from boundary 2” is a new web-publishing venture of boundary 2 located at <http://boundary2.org/poetry-and-poets-from-b2/>. Editors will solicit original poetry in several languages, but we also invite poets to submit their work. All modes are welcome. The submissions will be vetted, and those accepted will appear online. Submissions should be sent by email to daniel.ohara03@gmail.com.
