Ethnohistory

Volume 48, Number 3
Summer 2001

Articles

History and Forgetting in an Indigenous Amazonian Community
Suzanne Oakdale 381

The Codex Porfirio Díaz and the Map of Tutupengo: The Curious Relationship between Pictography and Glosses in Oaxacan Screenfolds
Bas van Doesburg 403

“But Now Things Have Changed”: Marius Barbeau and the Politics of Amerindian Identity
Andrew Nurse 433

A Case of Identity: Ethnogenesis of the New Houma Indians
Dave D. Davis 473

Keres: Engendered Key to the Pueblo Puzzle
Jay Miller 495

Book Reviews

Henry E. Stamm IV: People of the Wind River: The Eastern Shoshones, 1825–1900
Thomas H. Johnson 515

Nancy Shoemaker 518

Mary Jane Ward: George Washington Grayson and the Creek Nation, 1845–1920
Izumi Ishii 539

Thomas E. Emerson: Cahokia and the Archaeology of Power
Frederic W. Gleach 521

t © 2001 by the Society for Ethnohistory