Maya Exodus
Indigenous Struggle for Citizenship in Chiapas
By Heidi Moksnes
$26.95 Paperback • 280 Pages • 20 b&w Photos

Maya Exodus offers a richly detailed account of how a group of indigenous people has adopted a global language of human rights to press claims for social change and social justice. Anthropologist Heidi Moksnes describes how Catholic Maya in the municipality of Chenalhó in Chiapas, Mexico, have changed their position vis-à-vis the Mexican state as a means of exodus from poverty.

Mesoamerican Memory
Enduring Systems of Remembrance
Edited by Amos Megged and Stephanie Wood
$55.00 Hardcover • 328 Pages • 52 B&W Illus.

Both before and after the Spanish conquest, indigenous scribes recorded their communities’ histories and belief systems, as well as the events of the conquest and its effects and aftermath. In Mesoamerican Memory, Amos Megged and Stephanie Wood have gathered the latest scholarship from contributors around the world to compare the various memories and explore how they were preserved and altered over time.
SPECULATORS IN EMPIRE
Iroquoia and the 1768 Treaty of Fort Stanwix
By William J. Campbell
$39.95 hardcover • 288 PAGES • 6 B&W ILLUS.

In Speculators in Empire, William J. Campbell examines the diplomacy, land speculation, and empire building that led up to the 1768 Treaty of Fort Stanwix. His detailed study overturns common assumptions about the roles of the Iroquois and British on the eve of the American Revolution.

CONTOURS OF A PEOPLE
Metis Family, Mobility, and History
Edited by Nicole St-Onge, Carolyn Podruchny, and Brenda Macdougall
$39.95 hardcover • 456 PAGES • 12 B&W ILLUS.

What does it mean to be Metis? How do the Metis understand their world, and how do family, community, and location shape their consciousness? Such questions inform this collection of essays on the northwestern North American people of mixed European and Native ancestry who emerged in the seventeenth century as a distinct culture.

CHEROKEE STORIES OF THE TURTLE ISLAND LIARS’ CLUB
With Hastings Shade, Sammy Still, Sequoyah Guess, and Woody Hansen
EDITED BY CHRISTOPHER B. TEUTON
“This will be a deeply treasured book for Cherokee individuals, families, and communities, as it shows beyond any doubt how rich, complex, and beautiful Cherokee oral and literary expressions continue to be in this chaotic world. It is easily one of the most important books on Cherokee worldview and tradition ever written.”
—Daniel Heath Justice, University of British Columbia
272 pages $30.00 cloth

CROOKED PATHS TO ALLOTMENT
The Fight Over Federal Indian Policy After the Civil War
C. JOSEPH GENETIN-PILAWA
“Offers a compelling and important counter-narrative to the standard readings of the development of late nineteenth-century U.S. Indian policy. In taking serious account of indigenous peoples’ political agency, especially that of Ely S. Parker, Genetin-Pilawa offers a model for historical scholarship in this field. A must-read for students and scholars of U.S.-indigenous relations and history.”
—Kevin Bruyneel, Babson College
416 pages $39.95 cloth

BONDS OF ALLIANCE
Indigenous and Atlantic Slaveries in New France
BRET RUSHFORTH
“In this pioneering effort to unite Atlantic and ethno-historical approaches to colonial North American history, Rushforth traces the traffic in Native American captives from the continental heartland into slavery in French Canada and on the sugar plantations of the Caribbean. A highly original, thoroughly researched, and strongly argued study that forces us to rethink the received wisdom on Native-French relations.”
—Allan Greer, McGill University
256 pages $39.95 cloth
Published for the Omohundro Institute of Early American History and Culture

THE CORNER OF THE LIVING
Ayacucho on the Eve of the Shining Path Insurgency
MIGUEL LA SERNA
“This book adds a new dimension to our understanding of Peru’s war by focusing on two mountain villages at the very center of the storm. La Serna’s empathy for the villagers enables him to bring to life their motivations and sensibilities and gives us new insight into the predicament of the rural poor everywhere.”
—Orin Starn, Duke University
