The official journal of the Society for Novel Studies

Concerned with the novel's role in engaging and shaping the world and with promoting critical discourse on the novel, Novel publishes significant work on fiction and related areas of research and theory. Special issues on the early American novel, eighteenth-century fiction, and postcolonial modernisms carry on Novel's long-standing interest in the Anglo-American tradition, while an issue dedicated to the contemporary African novel demonstrates the journal's increasingly global focus.
Modern Language Quarterly publishes scholarly essays and book reviews pertaining to literary history. The journal is dedicated to scholarship that illuminates texts of the recent and the distant past. It is devoted to those texts as the representations, agents, and vehicles of change.
