Philip Sparrow Tells All
Lost Essays by Samuel Steward, Writer, Professor, Tattoo Artist
Samuel Steward
Edited by Jeremy Mulderig with a Foreword by Justin Spring
“Elegantly constructed, bitingly funny, and likely to be utterly baffling to the original readership—particularly the coded gay references.”—Publishers Weekly
Paper $20.00

Tourist Attractions
Performing Race and Masculinity in Brazil’s Sexual Economy
Gregory Mitchell
“A valuable and insightful book about how sex works to both frame encounters between foreign tourists and Brazilian sex workers, and also to complicate and extend the impressions and the relationships that result from those encounters.”—Don Kulick, author of Travesti
Paper $30.00

Sex Museums
The Politics and Performance of Display
Jennifer Tyburczy
“Deeply engaged with museum studies and queer studies, as well as with work on affect, performance, and empire, Sex Museums grapples intelligently with the paradoxes of exhibiting and archiving sex.”—Heather Love, author of Feeling Backward
Paper $37.50

Setting Plato Straight
Translating Ancient Sexuality in the Renaissance
Todd W. Reeser
“Reeser demonstrates that Plato is crucial for understanding the production of cultural logic around sexuality. This book is not simply timely, but profoundly important.”—Katherine Crawford, author of The Sexual Culture of the French Renaissance

TSQ offers a venue for interdisciplinary scholarship that contests the objectification, pathologization, and exoticization of transgender lives. Its mission is to examine how “transgender” comes into play as a category, a process, a social assemblage, an increasingly intelligible gender identity, and an identifiable threat to gender normativity.
