The first introductory textbook for transgender/trans studies at the undergraduate level

This is the first introductory textbook intended for courses in transgender/trans studies at the undergraduate level. It can easily be used in LGBTQ, queer, and gender/feminist studies.

Written by an accomplished teacher with experience in a wide variety of higher learning institutions, it explores not only contemporary transgender issues and experiences but also the history of gender diversity around the world.

It encompasses and connects global contexts, intersecting identities, historic and contemporary issues, literature, politics, art, and culture.

Ardel Haefele-Thomas embraces the richness of intersecting identities—how race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, class, nation, religion, and ability have cross-influenced to shape the transgender experience and trans culture across and beyond the binary.

INTRODUCTION TO TRANSGENDER STUDIES

What’s the Use?
On the Uses of Use
SARA AHMED
“Read this book, you need it, and more importantly, you will use it. It is useful and useless in equal proportion and compelling precisely because of its mixed use value. Before you know it, you will get used to use and you will carry it with you always.”
—Jack Halberstam

Intersectionality as Critical Social Theory
PATRICIA HILL COLLINS
“Anyone who claims the mantle of Black feminist theorist is standing in the house Patricia Hill Collins built. She is one of our most important intellectual architects. Here she continues to be at her very best.”
—Brittney Cooper

Reading Sedgwick
LAUREN BERLANT, EDITOR
Theory Q
“Reading Sedgwick will be welcome both for those encountering her for the first time and as a reprise for those wishing to be reminded of her work’s particular charm, enlivening curiosity, and power.”
—Christina Crosby

Beside You in Time
Sense Methods and Queer Sociabilities in the American Nineteenth Century
ELIZABETH FREEMAN
“Elizabeth Freeman’s fierce femme provocation expands contemporary critical thinking about biopower, leading queer Americanist scholarship toward an exploration of the rich potentialities buried within the history of sexuality.”
—Dana Luciano
