The Cuban Hustle

Culture, Politics, Everyday Life
SUJATHA FERNANDES

"In a complex and nuanced way, Sujatha Fernandes describes Cuba's most recent two decades, focusing on subjects that have not been written about in this much detail. She contributes to a new understanding of present-day Cuba... in an engaging and politically sophisticated style that general readers will enjoy." — Margaret Randall

Peripheral Nerve

Health and Medicine in Cold War Latin America
ANNE-EMANUELLE BIRN and RAÚL NECOCHEA LÓPEZ, editors
American Encounters/Global Interactions

"Peripheral Nerve advances our understanding of the region's Cold War in many consequential respects.... The book's examination of Latin America's relations with the Second World before, during, and after the Cold War redresses a serious imbalance in the burgeoning literature, while extending the new scholarship's appreciation of the regional struggle's 'multivalent, multilevel nature.'"

Cowards Don't Make History

Orlando Fals Borda and the Origins of Participatory Action Research

JOANNE RAPPAPORT

"The essential, definitive reference for this crucial stage of Orlando Fals Borda's thought, politics, and collaborative research, Cowards Don't Make History reaches beyond Latin America to all who are concerned with the social construction of knowledge and the politics and sociology of knowledge. This stimulating, innovative, and rigorous book is a model for exploratory, interactive research."

— Catherine C. LeGrand

Citizens of Scandal

Journalism, Secrecy, and the Politics of Reckoning in Mexico

VANESSA FREIJE

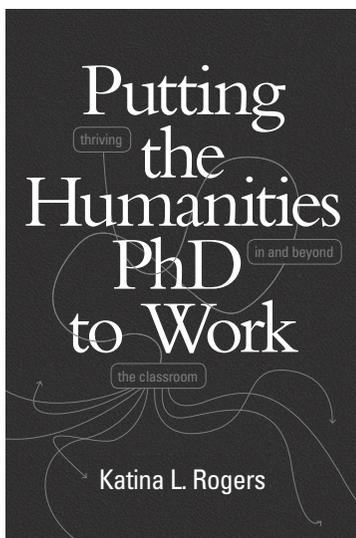

"This is a breakthrough book. With extensive documentation, Vanessa Freije narrates the uneven and incomplete dance among the public, journalists, and government that opened the Mexican media in the 1960s and transformed the nature of public debate and political culture. With delicate attention to forward movement and sinister recoil, she brilliantly situates her study in the proliferating field of inquiry into the public sphere." — Mary Kay Vaughan

Putting the Humanities PhD to Work

Thriving in and beyond the Classroom

KATINA L. ROGERS

"Katina L. Rogers deftly skewers narrowed notions of scholarly success and makes an urgent case for graduate education as a pathway to practical, meaningful work. This book is right on time. We need versatile, thinking people in the postpandemic public sphere and the humanities in the driver's seat for structural changes to come." — Bethany Nowviskie

The Academic's Handbook, Fourth Edition

Revised and Expanded

LORI A. FLORES and JOCELYN H. OLCOTT, editors

"With beautifully written, thoughtful, and quite moving selections, this revised and expanded edition of the classic Academic's Handbook is very relevant to contemporary academic life and will find a wide audience across the academy. This excellent book makes an important contribution." — Paige West

The Journal of the American Society for Ethnohistory

Mesoamerican Experiences of Illness and Healing

Katie Labelle and Robert C. Schwaller, editors

The official journal of the American Society for Ethnohistory

Ethnohistory reflects the wide range of current scholarship inspired by anthropological and historical approaches to the human condition. Of particular interest are those analyses and interpretations that seek to make evident the experience, organization, and identities of indigenous, diasporic, and minority peoples that otherwise elude the histories and anthropologies of nations, states, and colonial empires.
