Research in the History of Economic Thought and Methodology
ISSN: 0743-4154
Series Editors: Professor Jeff Biddle, Professor Ross Emmett and Professor Marianne Johnson

Research in the History of Economic Thought and Methodology is an annual research series which presents materials in two fields: the history of economic thought, and the methodology of economics.

The annual A-volume contains peer-reviewed articles comparable with other academic journals in the history of economics, except that long pieces are welcome. The A-volume also publishes symposia, and review essays on new works in the history of economic thought, methodology and related fields, including multiple reviews of the same work.

The annual B- and C-volumes are archival supplements that present hitherto unpublished materials of interest in both fields.

Proposals
If you would like to propose a volume for Research in the History of Economic Thought and Methodology, please contact Jeff Biddle: biddle@msu.edu or Ross Emmett: emmettr@msu.edu

For more information about individual titles in this series, please visit our Bookstore: http://books.emeraldinsight.com/

www.emeraldinsight.com/books Research you can use Keep up-to-date on new scholarship from this journal.

Email Alerts is a complimentary service that delivers electronic tables of contents straight to your inbox, allowing you to stay current on new scholarship as it is published.

Sign up for free e-mail alerts today at dukejournals.org/cgi/alerts (no subscription necessary).

- Complete the free registration process.
- Select your favorite journals to start receiving electronic tables of contents.

For more information about Duke University Press journals, visit dukejournals.org.