

Index

- Abromovitz, Moses, 96–97 adaptive expectations model, 135 agent-based modeling.
    See microsimulation
Aizerman, Mark Aronovich
    as applied mathematician, 273 applied theoretical work, 275 automatic regulation theory, 273–74
    behavioral models, 278–79 Caltech visit, 287
    career of, 271–72
    choice theory, 277, 279–81, 286, 288 collective research, 281 experimental research, 286–88, 290 formalism, 285n26
    influences, 273, 278
    at Institute of Automatics, 272–73, 281–82
    interdisciplinarity, 282, 286 international partners, 283–84 living systems, 274–75, 286 mathematical training, 273n4 political constraints, 284–85 political courage, 273n3 reputation, 283, 286n28 research reorientations, 289
    social systems, 286
Alchian, Armen, 178–82, 184
Alchon, Guy, 15
Aleskerov, Fuad
    on Aizerman’s curiosity, 286n7
    choice theory, 280–81
    collaborations with Aizerman, 285 experimental economics, 287 mail intercepted by Soviet government, 284
    post-Soviet research, 288–89
Alexander, Christopher, 298–99
Allais, Maurice, 247, 249–53
Allen, R. G. D., 135

- American Telephone and Telegraph (AT&T). See also Rorty, Malcolm C.
- antitrust defenses, 67–70, 72–73
  - business cycle research, 77–78
  - call data analyses, 64
  - Commercial Engineering Department
    - overview of, 65
    - antitrust defenses, 67–70
    - data gathering expertise, 72–73
    - forecasting, 66, 78–79
    - functions moved to Statistical Division, 76–77, 79, 81
    - rate scheduling research, 71
    - Vail’s support for, 65, 68–69
  - creation, 60
  - data collection practices, 62–63, 72–73
  - demand forecasting, 61–66, 77–79
  - economics research, 80
  - expansion, 67
  - fair rates concept, 72
  - government antitrust litigation, 67–70
  - monopoly status, 66–67
  - and National Bureau of Economic Research, 67, 72, 75–76
  - patent expiration, 66–67
  - public relations, 68
  - statistical control of business, 61
  - Statistical Division, 65, 76–77, 79–81
  - sublicensing and network growth, 67
  - “Summary of Business Conditions” publication, 77–79
  - telephone engineering, 60–66
- analog computers
- chess-playing, 149
  - design of, 124n11
  - military uses, 122, 135
  - power system uses, 227
  - regression analyzer, 193–95
  - Turing’s proposal, 147–49
- Andrew, Seymour, 78–79
- Andronov, Aleksandr, 273, 281, 283n21
- Applied Mathematics Panel (AMP), 122, 172
- Armatte, Michel, 12–13
- Arrow, Kenneth
- career overview, 175
  - health market analysis, 101
  - influences, 178
  - information theory, 169, 177, 183–86
  - interdisciplinary collaborations, 91–92, 95, 108
  - inventory theory, 92, 175–76
  - learning process modeling, 98
  - markets, 183, 247
  - medical care, 184–85
  - methodological heterogeneity, 186
  - on model-building, 177
  - operations research, 86–87, 176
  - on Paul Milgrom, 105
  - RAND, 175, 177–78, 182
  - research and development, 180–84
  - sequential information gathering, 181
  - at Stanford
    - applied decision analysis seminars, 104
    - departure and return, 99
    - on funding, 98
    - interdisciplinary collaborations, 92, 95
    - operations research, 95
    - Research Center for Growth, 97
    - student supervision, 94, 96–97
    - teaching, 105–6
    - testing theory, 169, 175
- auctions, 102, 237

- automatic control theory capitalist economies, 137n18 conferences on, 131–33
 feedback risks, 129
 formalization of, 127 promotion of, 133 socialist economies, 137
- Axelrod, Robert, 287
- Bach, Georges Leland, 94–95
- Backhouse, Roger, 55
- Ballandonne, Matthieu, 178
- Banerjee, Abhijit, 11
- Barnard, Chester I., 70–71, 81
- Beer, Stanley, 136–37
- behavioral economics, 288–89
- Belcher, Donald, 78–81
- Bell, Alexander Graham, 117n4
- Bell Labs, 81–82
- Bellman, Richard at Carnegie Institute of Technology, 94
 dynamic programming, 12, 153–55 influence on Kálmán, 151, 153 and Mark Aizerman, 283
- Bell System, 66–67, 117n4. See also American Telephone and Telegraph
- Besley, Tim, 8
- Bix, Amy Sue, 305
- Blackman, Ralph, 121
- Blackwell, David, 91–92
- Blockley, David Ian, 305
- Bode, Hendrik, 117–18, 121, 123nn8–9
- Bohn, Roger, 234–36
- Boiteux, Marcel, 251–53, 260–63
- Boldyrev, Ivan, 235, 305
- book overview, 19–23
- Boulding, Kenneth, 127n13
- Boumans, Marcel, 117, 231, 306
- Bowker, Al, 91, 106, 108
- Box, George, 201
- Brams, Steven, 284
- Braverman, Emmanuil, 272, 274, 276, 278
- Breslau, Daniel, 306
- Brown, Gordon S., 115, 121
- Brown, Robert G., 133
- business, 60–61, 79–80. See also management; Stanford University
- business cycles, 76–77, 127, 129, 160–61
- Cagan, Philip, 135
- Caldwell, Steven, 207n48
- Calvert, Monte, 34
- Campbell, Donald P., 115, 121
- capital-intensive investments, 246, 257–60
- Capron, William, 182
- Caramanis, Michael, 234–36
- Carnegie Institute of Technology (CIT), 135
- Chase, Stuart, 43
- Chenery, Hollis, 97–98
- Cheng. Chung-Tang, 306
- Chernoff, Herman, 91
- Cherrier, Beatrice, 306
- Chervonenkis, Alexey, 274n6
- Chick, Martin, 250
- choice functions, 279–80
- choice theory collective choice, 276–77, 280–81, 284–85, 288 functions, 279–80, 286 group choice problems, 277 hyperrelations, 280 independence of irrelevant alternatives, 280n16 Mark Aizerman's, 277, 279–81, 286, 288
 microeconomics, 280 political dimensions, 284–85
 rationality, 279

- civic responsibility, 51
- civil engineering projects. See infrastructure projects
- civilizational discourses, 46–48, 51–52
- Cochrane-Orcutt transformation procedure, 195
- Cohn, Julie, 226
- the Cold War control engineering, 136–38
 interdisciplinary collaboration, 90
 rationality, 15
 sciences born out of, 90–91 Stanford during, 91–94
- Collbohm, Frank, 173
- collective choice problems, 276–77, 280–81, 284–85
- Colpitts, Walter, 50
- commercial engineering, 65. See also American Telephone and Telegraph
- Committee on the Distribution of Income, 72
- communication engineering filtering, 151–53, 155 influence on control engineering, 122–23
 influence on economics, 131
- communications theory, 149–51, 154–55
- Compton, Karl, 44
- computers, 124n11, 145–46, 148n2, 201–2. See also analog computers
- computer science, 106, 108
- consumers, 246–47, 249, 251, 253
- continuous communication systems, 149–51
- control engineering. See also automatic control theory
 overview of, 115–16
 applicability, 133
- Cold War convergences, 136–38 development of, 121 economic applications, 127–28, 132–35
 economists' perspectives, 136 electrical power system, 229–34, 241
 the electrical power system, 229–34
 feedback systems, 118–20, 125, 146 fire control, 117, 121–24, 128
 and government intervention, 136 historical contexts, 116–17
 homeostatic control, 232–36, 239 influences on economics, 116, 129, 131
versus information engineering, 146–47, 164
 long-distance telephony, 118 macroeconomic analogies, 134 major developments in, 117 mathematical approaches to,
 122–23
 Nyquist diagrams, 118, 119, 123, 125–26, 129, 134
 optimization, 138
 postwar dissemination, 126 principles and protocols, 125–26 rational expectations revolution, 145 servomechanisms, 120, 122, 133, 135 state-variable approaches, 125 steam engines, 118–20
 system stability, 122–23, 125 tools introduced to economics, 135–37 transfer functions, 123n7, 125 trial-and-error approaches, 124–25
- cost-benefit analysis, 81
- Cowles Commission, 90, 196–97

- Cunningham, L. B. C., 170–71, 174 cybernetics, 124, 126–27, 137, 235, 274
- David, Martin, 200–204
- David, Paul, 106–7
- Davis, Joseph, 64
- Debleth, Charles, 39–40
- Debreu, Gérard, 247, 249
- decision theory model-building, 177 rational, 93
 Soviet, 277
 Stanford, 94–96, 104
- demand and price, 246
- demand forecasting, 61–66, 77–79
- the Depression. See the Great Depression
- depressions, 133–34
- design economics
 overview of, 85–86, 294
 planning, 297
 postcolonial, 297–98 problems with, 298–99 versus tool-based, 294, 299
- Dessus, Gabriel, 252–53, 261
- developing economies, 299
- development engineering, 169, 180–81
- digital computers, 124n11, 145–46, 201–2
- discrete communication systems, 149–50
- discrete information systems, 149–50
- Dodge, Harold, 82
- Doherty, Robert, 52–53
- Doolittle, Thomas, 62
- Duarte, Pedro Garcia, 306
- Duesenberry, James, 193
- Duflo, Esther, 11, 299
- Dupuit, Jules, 14
- dynamic programming, 153–55, 159
- Dynamic Simulation of Income Model (DYNASIM)
 overview of, 207–10
 developers, 192 experiments conducted, 210–11 socioeconomic engineering, 193
- econometrics, 193–96
- the Econometric Society, 79, 82
- Economic Analysis for Business Decisions* (Alan Manne), 94
- economic engineering. See also design economics
 overview of, 85
 conceptualizations of, 11 France, 249
 markets, 266–67
 performativity, 303 tool-based, 295–96, 299–302 twentieth-century historical narrative, 294–300
- economic history narratives, 45–48
- economic leadership positioning, 48–52
- economics. See also engineering education; Stanford University
 academic roots of, 17, 24 as-engineering discourses, 11–13 definitions of, 302 versus engineering, 6–8 engineering practices in, 10 histories of, 16
 performativity of, 303 state action, 300 the technical turn, 24–25 transformation into engineering science, 13
- Economics: An Introductory Analysis* (Samuelson)
 the author's account of, 54–55
 historical contexts, 31–33, 52–55

Economics: An IntroductoryAnalysis (Samuelson)(continued)

- impetus for, 31, 54
- management in, 55
- the economics-engineering nexus, 16–19
- economics-engineering tensions, 13
- The Economics of Defense in the Nuclear Age* (Hitch and McKean), 170
- economics of science, 107
- economic technologies, 295–96
- economists
  - as dentists, 299
  - engineer interactions, 13–14, 301–2
  - as plumbers, 11, 299
- the economy as material system, 295
- EDF. See Électricité de France
- Edwards, Paul, 187
- efficiency, 24, 174, 253
- Ekelund, Robert, 14
- electrical analogs of the economy, 132
- the electrical power system
  - control engineering, 229–34, 241
  - deregulation, 241
  - economic dispatch, 226–28, 236
  - frequency control, 233–34
  - growth model
    - crisis, 228–30
    - economic dispatch, 226–28
    - financial techniques, 225
    - load following, 231–33, 239
    - pricing, 225–26, 229
    - regulation, 224–25
    - scalable technologies, 224
    - system controllers, 226–27
  - marginal costs, 253–54
  - regulation, 224–25, 238
  - as sociotechnical system, 223–24
  - system controllers, 226–28, 231, 236–37

- Électricité de France* (EDF)
  - capital-intensive investments, 257–60
  - creation of, 245, 255
  - economic engineering, 250–51, 266–67
  - general equilibrium theory, 249–50, 266
  - global market dependence, 267
  - nationalization, 255, 265–66
  - objectives, 255–56
  - power generation means, 256–59
  - pricing
    - differentiating features, 263–65
    - encouraging industrial reorganization, 264
    - marginal cost, 250, 260
    - marginal cost, long-term, 251, 254, 260–63, 267
    - and national reconstruction, 265
    - optimal, 254
    - peak-load, 250
    - regional differences, 264
    - state engineering, 266
- electricity pricing. See also Électricité de France
  - contemporary, 241–42
  - early techniques, 225–26, 229
  - locational marginal approach, 222–23
  - marginal cost, 250, 252–54, 260
  - marginal cost, long-term, 251, 254, 260–61
  - optimization, 221–22, 237, 242
  - peak-load, 250
  - revenue reconciliation, 238–39
  - spot, 234–41
  - time-varying, 236
- engineering
  - assessing quality, 5–6
  - celebrations of, 45–46

- disciplinary fragmentation, 2, 16 versus economics, 6–8 economics-as discourses, 11–13 interest in economics, 14–15 knowledge production in, 16–17 mass-produced versus one-off projects, 3, 5 and mathematics, 4 versus philosophy, 2 professional evolution of, 34–36 project types, 3 quality-of-life claims, 44–45 roots of macroeconomics, 12 versus science, 2–4, 16–18 and social history, 24 versus social sciences, 49 stages of, 2–3 engineering economics, 14, 37–38, 53, 62
 engineering education
   American Society for Engineering Education, 38 celebration of the discipline, 45–48 civic responsibility in, 51–53 economics in (Depression era)
     (See also Economics: An Introductory Analysis) and business administration, 37 calls for increasing, 50 conferences on, 40, 53
   debates over, 38, 40–41, 54 disciplinary conflicts, 41–42
   expansions of, 37–38
   historical contexts, 32–33, 36–38, 40, 42
   and intellectual superiority beliefs, 41–42, 49–51 lack of, early, 36–37 management classes, 38–39 pre-World War II history, 31–32 and professionalization, 38 Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education (SPEE), 32, 38, 40, 44–45 standardization, lack of, 53–54 textbooks, 53–54 variations in, 38–40 expansions of, 34–35
 formalization of, 33–34
 history in, 48
 ideologies of, 48–49
Journal of Engineering Education, 38 and managerial career paths, 36 reform calls, 52 shop versus school culture, 34 shortcomings, 50 social sciences, 51–52
 specialization debates, 38 and technological unemployment, 44–45 Ennis, William, 37–38, 41, 53–54
 Erickson, Paul, 15
 Estes, Herman, 287
 Evans, H. S., 51 exchange rates, 298
 experimental economics, 104, 287–89
 exponential smoothing, 122, 135 failure in economics versus engineering, 7–8
 feedback systems
   business cycles, 129
   control engineering, 118–20, 125, 129, 146
   economic theories, 132 electrical circuit analogs, 133
   homeostatic control, 233
   social systems, 127–28
 Feldman, Grigory, 270
 Fetter, Frank, 89
 filtering problems and solutions, 151–52

- Finch, J. K., 40
 fire control, 117, 121–24, 128
 Fish, Frederick P., 64
 Fish, John C. L., 90
 Flood, M. M., 127
 Ford, Henry, 44
 forecasting
     business cycles, 76
     sales, 156–57 telephone demand, 61–66, 77–79
 Forsythe, George, 106, 108 France, 249, 259–60. See also Électricité de France
 Franklin, Steven, 207n48
 Frost, Robert, 249–50
 Fry, Thornton, 82
- Galison, Peter, 123n9 game theory, 101–3
 Gantt, Henry L., 35
 Garrett, Seymour, 46–47
 Gay, Edwin, 72
 general equilibrium theory, 249–50, 266
 Gifford, Walter S., 81
 Gilbreth, Frank, 35
 Gilbreth, Lillian, 35
 Giraud, Yann, 55, 306–7
 Girshick, Abraham, 91–92, 175
 Global Financial Crisis of 2008
     (GFC), 298
 Goldberger, Arthur, 200–203
 Goodwin, Craufurd, 12n2
 Goodwin, Richard, 129, 132–36
 Gorham, William, 206, 211n53, 212 government intervention, 136 government programs, 211–13
 Grant, Eugene, 38, 53, 90 the Great Depression. See also engineering education civilizational progress discourses, 45–48, 51–52
     as economic outcome, 295, 298 engineers blamed for, 42–45, 52 engineer self-positioning, 32–33, 36, 48–52 impact on economic theory, 116n2 professionalization of engineering, 33–36
     technological unemployment fears, 32, 42–45
 Greenberger, Martin, 198–99, 205
 Gurley, John, 96
 Guthrie, Harold, 207
- Halsmayer, Verena, 12
 Harris, Seymour, 200n26
 Harris, Ted, 175
 Harris, Thomas, 92
 Harsanyi, John, 101
 Hayford, J. F., 6
 Hazen, Harold, 121
 Hébert, Robert, 14
 Hendricks, Gary, 207n48
 Hennessy, Peter, 8
 Hewlett, William, 89 history, engineering interpretations of, 46–47
 Hitch, Charles, 170, 186. See also The Economics of Defense in the Nuclear Age
 Hoag, Malcolm, 180
 Holmström, Paul, 103
 Holt, Charles, 116, 132, 135, 156, 201 homeostatic control, 232–36, 239–40
 Hoover, Herbert, 75, 80, 88–89, 108
 Hoover, Kevin D., 143
 Hotchkiss, Willard, 42
 Hotelling, Harold, 89, 171, 175
 Hounshell, David, 180 household microsimulations, 202–3 Houthakker, Hendrick, 97–98
 Howard, Ronald, 95–96
 Hughes, Thomas, 223, 226, 228
 Hurwicz, Leonid, 101, 104, 287n29

- idealism, 295n3
- industrial engineering, 35, 89, 93, 95, 106–7
- the Industrial Revolution, 46–47
- information
- asymmetric, 101
  - as commodity, 183–84
  - medical care, 184–85
  - in rational expectations theory, 160–62
  - sequential gathering, 181
- information engineering
- overview of, 146
  - versus* control engineering, 146–47, 164
  - influence on rational expectations theory, 145
- information science, 123
- information theory
- Kenneth Arrow's, 169, 177, 183–86
  - and rational expectations theory, 144, 158, 164
- infrastructure projects. See also
- the electrical power system;
  - technological systems,
  - large-scale
- capital-intensive investments, 246, 257–60
- engineering economics, 62
- Keynesian policies, 249
- innovation clusters, 107n32
- Institute of Automatics / Automation (IAT / IPU). See also
- Aizerman, Mark Aronovich;
  - Aleskerov, Fuad
- automata, 274
- creation of, 272–73
- Emmanuil Braverman, 272, 274, 276, 278
- experimental work, 287–88
- formal theory, 289–90
- image recognition, 274n6, 275
- impact of, 290
- international connections, 289
- Lab 25, 281–83, 290
- mathematical economics, 276–77
- members, 273
- socio-economic system control, 276
- The Institute of Management Sciences (TIMS), 95
- International Federation of Automatic Control (IFAC), 283
- inventory theory, 92, 175–76
- investments. See also capital-intensive investments
- capital-intensive, 246, 257–60
  - long-term marginal cost pricing, 251
  - research and development, 180
  - uncertainty, 181
- Jackson, Dugald, 45, 49
- John J. Carty Award for the Advancement of Science, 85
- Johnson, Harry, 127
- Johnson, Lyndon B., 179, 206
- Jones, R. L., 82
- Kailath, Thomas, 151
- Kalecki, Michal, 132–33
- Kálmán, Rudolf Emil, 151–53, 283
- Kalman filters, 138n17, 151, 161–63, 163, 164n7
- Karlin, Samuel, 92, 98, 104
- Katsenelinboigen, Aron, 276, 284n25
- Kendall, Maurice, 136, 195
- Keynes, John Maynard, 129, 130, 132–33, 299
- Keynesian revolution versus rational expectations, 144–45
- Kimball, Dexter, 46, 49
- Kirtchik, Olessia, 272
- Klein, Judy L., 117, 307

- Klein, Lawrence, 196 knowledge production, 1–2, 16–18, 302
 Koopmans, T. C., 196
 Korbel, John, 198, 200, 202
 Kreps, David, 85–86
 Kurz, Mordecai, 101
- Lake, Wilfred, 42, 54
 Lampman, Robert, 201, 203, 205
 Lange, Oskar, 137
 Layton, Edwin, 35–36, 51
 Leontief, Wassily, 115, 127–28
 Lerner, Alexander, 274n6
 Lescohier, Don, 41
 Lewis, David, 69–70
 Lieberman, Gerald, 91–92 long-term marginal cost, 251, 260
 long-term marginal cost pricing.
   See marginal cost pricing Lucas, Robert business cycle theory, 147 at Carnegie Mellon, 162 decision models, 94 instrumental view of theory, 163–64 on mechanics of economic development, 155 Nobel Prize, 147
   rational expectations theory
     development of, 162–63
     incomplete information, 160–62
     information theory, 144, 158, 164
     mathematical tools used, 158–64 versus Muth's interpretation, 155 as technical development, 143–45
   Turing test use, 144
 Luzin, Nikolai, 273
 Lyman, Richard, 99
 Lytle, Charles, 39, 41
- MacCool, LeRoy, 122 machine learning, 274
 MacKenzie, Donald, 187, 303 macroeconomics, 12, 134, 144, 205.
   See also rational expectations theory Malégarie, Charles, 252
 Malinvaud, Edmond, 267
 Malishevski, Andrei, 276, 278, 284–85, 288 management decision-making, 64
   engineering education, 36, 38–39, 55
   engineers in, 15, 33, 35 scientific, 35, 72
   at Stanford, 107–8
   telephone industry, 80–81
 Mankiw, Gregory, 11, 13
 Manne, Alan, 94, 106
 March, James, 104 marginal-cost pricing central planning, 246–47 efficiency of, 253 electricity sector, 250, 252–54, 260 and spot pricing, 236, 238–39 marginal cost pricing, long-term behavior shaping, 248, 267
   electricity sector, 251, 254, 260–63, 267 investment policies enabled, 251 marginal costs, 251–54
 market design
   overview of, 222
   control engineers, 222, 241
   economists, 100–5, 107
   as engineering, 10 and information-as-commodity, 184 market research, 62
 markets
   economic engineering, 266–67
   global, 267

- health, 101
- Kenneth Arrow's work, 101, 183, 247
- large-scale technological systems, 246
- as optimizing mechanisms, 221
- rational expectations hypothesis, 157–58
- versus* research and development, 183
- socialist calculation debate, 248–49
- Marschak, Jacob, 82, 92, 101, 175–76
- Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). See also Economics: An Introductory Analysis
- Energy Lab (Schweppe's Group), 230–31, 233–35
- Lincoln Lab, 230
- postwar economics education, 54
- Servomechanism laboratory, 121
- Massé, Pierre
- career of, 245
- economic theory, 246–49
- Électricité de France, 256, 263
- Keynesian policies, 249
- mathematical analyses in military design, 171–74
- mathematical economics, 276, 278
- mathematical theory of combat, 171–72
- mathematical theory of communication, 149–50
- Mathematical Theory of Optimal Processes* (Lev Pontryagin), 98
- mathematical tools. See also models
- rational expectations theory, 158–64
- Stanford economists using, 98
- mathematics
- adoption of, 296
- applications of, 300
- Applied Mathematics Panel, 172
- changes in, 146
- communications theory, 149–51
- digital computers, 145–46
- testing theory, 175
- McClellan, William, 44
- McCulloch, Warren, 126–27
- McKean, Roland, 170
- McKinnon, Ronald, 96
- McMillan, Brockway, 146
- McNamara, Robert, 170
- The Mechanism of Economic Systems* (Arnold Tustin), 133
- medical care, 184–85
- Meiksins, Peter, 35
- metanarratives, 23–25
- microanalytic simulation. See microsimulation
- microeconomics, 14, 221, 280
- microsimulation. See also Dynamic Simulation of Income Model
- overview of, 191–92
- 1961 demographic, 192–93, 198–99
- challenges of, 204–5
- computing power needs, 198n21, 201–2
- criticisms of, 205–6
- electric-engineering analogies, 199
- households, 202–3, 207–11
- interest in, 193
- origins of, 193–97, 205
- Policy Exploration through Microanalytic Simulation*, 207
- socioeconomic engineering, 211–14
- at University of Wisconsin, 202–4

- Milgrom, Paul, 85, 103, 105 military technology design, 170–75
 Mirkin, Boris, 276–77, 284–85, 288
 Mirowski, Philip, 103n25, 184, 248–49
 Mitchell, Wesley, 72 models analogs, 132 attachment to materials, 164–65 building, 11–12
   decision theory, 177
   in economics versus engineering, 7 engineering design, 170–74 in engineering versus science, 3–4 in managerial decision-making, 64 as purpose-driven, 5 uncertainty in, 4–5 Modigliani, Franco, 94, 156 monopoly regulation, 75–76
 Monte Carlo method, 197–99
 Morgan, James, 197
 Morgan, Mary S., 12–13, 164–65, 307
 The Morrill Act of 1862, 34
 Moynihan, Daniel, 212–13
 Mueller, Milton, 67
 multistage decision processes, 153–54
 Muth, John at Carnegie Institute of Technology, 94
   rational expectations hypothesis, 143–45, 155, 157–58
   sales forecasting, 157 structural model of random processes, 135–36
 Nagel, Ernest, 127 National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER) and AT&T, 67, 72, 75–76 board members, 73
   business cycle research, 76
   Department of Commerce collaborations, 75
   engineer consultations, 49 establishment of, 59, 72, 75 goals of, 76 industry connections, 76, 80 political diversity at, 74
 National Defense Research Committee
   (NDRC), 120–22, 172
 Nerlove, Marc, 93–94, 97–98 new classical economics, 145
 Nik-Khah, Edward, 103n25, 184, 248–49
 Noble, David, 15
 Noll, Roger, 88, 106
Nonlinear Pricing (Robert Wilson), 102
 Nyquist, Harry, 118, 123
 Nyquist diagrams, 118, 119, 123,
   125–26, 129, 134
 Office of Economic Opportunity, 211–12
 Office of Naval Research (ONR), 90, 92
 Olstrom, Elinor, 85 operations research (OR) decision theory, 94–95, 176–77
   Kenneth Arrow's work, 86–87, 176
   lack of collaboration, 86 Stanford, 95, 105–8
   versus systems analysis, 94–95 uncertainty, 102
 optimal growth models, 98 optimal policies, 154
 optimization, 138, 221–22, 237, 242
 Orcutt, Guy. See also microsimulation
   biography, 193
   Cowles approach criticism, 196–97
   econometrics, 193–96
   economic engineering, 192, 213

- on government program
  - assessment, 211
- at Harvard, 195–96, 200
- national economy modeling, 197
- regression analyzer (RA), 193–95
- reputation of, 200–201
- sampling experiments, 194–95
- simultaneous equation modeling
  - criticism, 196
- on synthetic sampling, 191
  - at University of Cambridge, 195
  - at University of Wisconsin, 200–206
  - at the Urban Institute, 192, 206–7
  - at Yale, 206–7
- Oren, Samuel, 102n24
- Packard, David, 89
- Pareto, Vilfredo, 246
- Patten, W. F., 63–64
- Paxson, Edwin, 173–74
- Peabody, Gerald, 207n48
- performativity, 187, 303
- Phillips, A. W., 14
- Phillips, Bill, 116, 134
- Picon, Antoine, 18–19, 24
- Pidgeon, Nick, 8
- planned economies, 136–37
- planning, 15, 246–47, 297
- Planning, Programming, and Budgeting System (PPBS), 170
- Planning Production, Inventories and Work Force* (Holt et al.), 156
- Plott, Charles, 104, 283, 288
- policy
  - communications theory, 154–55
  - and engineering-science tensions, 11
  - microsimulation informing, 212–13
- Policy Exploration through Microanalytic Simulation* (Orcutt et al.), 207–11.
  - See also* Dynamic Simulation of Income Model
- political economy, 12–13, 294, 300
- Polznuv, Ivan, 137
- Pontryagin, Lev S., 98, 124, 138, 272n1, 281n18, 283
- Popper, Karl, 6–7
- Porteus, Evan, 103n26
- postcolonial planning, 297
- practices, 60
- Prescott, Edward, 147, 157n5, 158–59, 163
- prices, 24, 246–47, 249, 253
- pricing. See also electricity pricing; marginal-cost pricing; marginal-cost pricing, long-term
- performativity, 187
- spot, 234–41
- and uncertainty, 247
- Principles of Engineering Economy* (Eugene Grant), 53, 90
- Quade, Edward, 179
- Quesnay, François, 132
- RAND Corporation
  - cost-benefit analyses of technology, 178
  - creation of, 173
  - cross-disciplinarity, 86
  - decision theory, 94
  - influence of, 186–87
  - research and development
    - contracts, 182–83
  - systems analysis, 168–69, 178–80, 186
  - warfare evaluation section, 173–74
- rational decision theories, 93

- rational expectations theory.
See also Lucas, Robert
 overview of, 156–57
 business cycles, 160–61
 dynamic programming, 159
 influence of, 143–45
 information systems, 144–45 isolated market example, 157–58 John Muth's, 143–45, 155, 157–58 versus Keynesian revolution, 144–45
 as technical development, 143–44
- rationality
 Cold War, 15
 in engineering, 18–19
 engineering's claims to, 48–52 equated with objectivity, 186–87 versus logic, 19n7
- Rees, Mina, 91
- regulation, 224–25
- research and development (R&D).
See also testing economics of, 180–81
 intellectual property, 183 investment diversity, 180 and production, 181–82 risk, 187
 systems analysis, 168–69, 178–80
 uncertainty reduction, 181
- research and uncertainty management, 4
- Ricardo, David, 132
- Ride, Sally, 86
- Rivlin, Alice, 198, 211–12
- Robbins, Lionel, 18
- Roberts, John, 85
- Roe, Joseph, 47–48
- Roosevelt, Franklin Delano, 43–44, 52, 120–21
- Rorty, Malcolm C. at AT&T and Bell
 call data analyses, 64
 career summary, 60 as chief statistician, 76–77, 81
- Commercial Engineering Department, 65
 demand forecasting, 63–66
 executive positions, 79 nighttime call rate debate, 71 positions held, 63
- belief in quantitative economic facts, 72
- career of, 60–61, 63, 69–70, 79–80
- Econometric Society founding, 79
- and Nahum I. Stone, 71–72
- national income research, 71–72
- at the NBER, 59, 72, 75, 80
- and socialism, 73–74
- Some Problems in Current Economics*, 59, 73–75, 77
- statistical control of business, 61, 79–80
- statistics, emphasis on, 80–81
- at Western Union, 69–70
- Rosenberg, Nathan, 99–100, 107
- Rosenblatt, Frank, 274
- Ross, Edward A., 89
- Roth, Alvin
 on design economics, 85–86
 design interests, 105 on economic engineers, 10–11, 13 operations research background, 86
- Roth, Emily, 105
- Rothkopf, Michael, 102
- Rozonoer, Lev, 274, 283n20
- Russia, 288–89
- Sadowsky, George, 207
- safety, 2–6
- Saïdi, Aurélien, 307
- sales forecasting, 156–57
- Samuelson, Paul, 31, 86. See also Economics: An Introductory Analysis
- Scarf, Herbert, 91, 98

- Schelling, Thomas, 101
- Schweppe, Fred death, 339 electrical system state-space approach, 230–32
 homeostatic control theory, 232–35
 at MIT, 230–31 spot pricing, 234–39
- science of business, 60–61
 Cold War, 90–91
 of decision-making, 94–95
 economics of, 107
versus engineering, 2–4, 16–18
 social, 51–52, 127
 Soviet Union, 282, 284 tools, 302
- scientific management, 35, 72
- Scitovsky, Tibor, 96
- Seaton, R. A., 46, 48–49
- Sebba, Gregor, 136
- self-regulation, 115, 127–28
- Selten, Richard, 191
- Sen, Amartya, 279, 280n16, 283, 285, 290n35
- Sent, Esther-Mirjam, 12–13, 14n3, 117, 145
- sequential analysis, 174–76, 187
- sequential information gathering, 181
- servomechanisms, 117, 120, 122, 133, 135
- Shannon, Claude, 121, 149–50
- Shaw, Edward, 96
- Shchipanov, Georgy, 273
- Shewhart, Walter, 82
- shop culture, 34
- Simon, Herbert at Carnegie Institute of Technology, 94, 135 communication engineering, 123
 on design economics, 298
 on engineering versus science, 191 influence in the Soviet Union, 278 influence on rational expectations hypothesis, 156
 Nobel Prize, 81
 Soviet Union visit, 287
- simultaneous equation modeling (SEM), 196
- Smith, James, 207n48
- Smith, Vernon, 104
- Smithies, Arthur, 193
- Soare, Robert, 147–48
- socialist calculation debate, 248–49, 266
- social sciences, 51–52, 127
- Social Systems Research Institute (SSRI), 201–205
- socioeconomic engineering, 193, 211–14
- sociotechnical systems, 223–24, 226
- socio-technologists, 15
- Solomon, Herbert, 91
- Solow, Robert, 12, 86, 97
- Some Problems in Current Economics* (Malcolm C. Rorty), 59, 73–75, 77
- Soviet Union. See also Institute of Automatics / Automation (IAT / IPU) economic ideas, 270–71
 economic knowledge, 289
 experimental economics, 287–88
 mathematical economists, 273 Norbert Wiener's influence in, 275 perestroika, 288
 science, 282, 284
 stagnation period, 271 state control of engineers, 270–71
- Spence, Michael, 99
- spot pricing, 234–41
- Srinivasan, Seenu, 105
- stabilization policy, 134

- Stanford University. See also Terman, Frederick
 Cold War era, 91–93
 computer science, 106, 108
 cross-disciplinarity, 87, 105
 economics at Cold War era, 93–94
   early history, 88–90 experimental, 104 as fragmented, 99
   funding, 98 of industry, 106–7
   influence of, 108–9
   interdisciplinarity, 98, 108 orientation changes, 96–97 staffing problems, 98–100 summer workshops, 100–2 Engineering-Economic System institute (EES), 95–96, 105, 107 Engineering Economy courses, 93 founding of, 88
 funding strategies, 90–93, 95, 100 game theory at, 101, 103–4 Graduate School of Business (GSB) course offerings, 90 cross-disciplinary collaborations, 95, 105, 108
   economists at, 88
   game theory, 103–4
   organization of, 103n26 hiring, 91–92 history of engineering at Cold War era, 92–94
   early, 88–90 postwar era, 95
 history of sociology at, 89 industrial engineering, 89, 93, 95, 106–7 industrial partnerships, 88–89
 interdisciplinarity, 91–92, 98, 108
 lack of research on, 87 management science and engineering department, 107–8
 Operations Research (OR), 95, 105–8
 science of decision-making at, 94–96, 104n28
 student unrest, 100
 Stapleford, Thomas A., 307
 Stasi, Paul, 252, 261–63
 state engineering, 266
 statistical control of business, 61,
   79–80
 Statistical Division of AT&T, 65, 76–77, 79–81
 Statistical Research Group (SRG), 91, 171–72, 174
 statistics, 123–24, 296
 steam engines, 118–19, 137
 Steiner, Peter, 200
 Stone, Nahum I., 71–75
 Stone, Richard, 131–32, 194–95
 Suits, Daniel, 193
 Summers, Robert, 205–6
 Suppes, Patrick, 92 systems analysis
   criticisms of, 178–79
   versus operations research, 94–95 origins of, 94
   at RAND, 168–69, 178–80, 186
 Tabors, Richard, 233, 239–40
 Tarshis, Lorie, 96, 98 tax models, 212–13
 Taylor, Frederick Winslow, 35
 Taylorism, 35, 72
 Taylor Society, 80 technological momentum, 226, 228
 technological systems, large-scale, 62, 246. See also the electrical power system

- technological unemployment, 42–46, 52
- technology, 32, 42, 46–47
- technology readiness levels, 187
- the telephone industry. See also American Telephone and Telegraph
Bell Labs, 81–82
Bell System, 66–67, 117n4 concentration in, 67 economics-statistics-management overlaps, 80–81
nationalization calls, 69 network planning, 62
- telephony, long-distance, 118
- Terman, Frederick
at Stanford
Computation Center, 106 development strategies, 88–89, 91–93, 98
recruitment to, 88 view of research, 87–89
- testing efficiency demands, 174
sequential analysis, 174–76, 187
systems analysis, 168–69, 178–80, 186 wartime constraints, 168
- Thaler, George J., 133
- Thomas, William, 15, 307
- time series, 150–51
- Tinbergen, Jan, 192–95, 197
- Tobin, James, 197
- tool-based economic engineering
overview of, 294–95
versus design, 294, 299
developing economies, 299
development of, 296, 300–2
historical contexts, 295
professional differences, 301–2
- tools. See also models epistemological implications, 302 mathematical, in rational expectations theory, 158–64 ontological implications, 165
- Turing, Alan, 147–49
- Turing tests, 144, 149
- Turner, Barry, 7
- Tustin, Arnold on automatic control, 128–29 automatic control for economic modeling, 131 economic interests, 116, 129, 134 on economic stability, 132 economy as mechanical system, 14 on the history of control engineering, 116
on instability in capitalism, 133 on Keynes, 129, 130
- Tversky, Amos, 104
- uncertainty engineering and research, 4 epistemological impact, 1–2 and investment, 181 managing, 4–5
medical care, 184–85
and pricing, 247 types of, 5
- unemployment. See technological unemployment
- University of Wisconsin, Madison, 200–206
- Urban Institute. See also Dynamic Simulation of Income Model
overview of, 205
launch of, 211
microsimulation, 192, 207, 212–13
- Uzawa, Hirofumi, 95, 97n15, 98
- Vail, Theodore N., 65–69, 72
- Vapnik, Vladimir, 274n6
- Veblen, Thorstein, 61, 80–81, 89
- Vincenti, Walter, 107

- Wadsworth, George, 194
- Wald, Abraham, 174
- Wallis, Allen, 92n9, 171, 174
- Walras, Léon, 246
- War on Poverty, 211
- Weaver, Warren, 121–22, 171–72
- Weintraub, E. Roy, 54
- Wertheimer, Richard, 207n48
- What Engineers Know and How They Know it* (Walter Vincenti), 107
- Wickenden, William, 45, 51–52
- Wiener, Norbert. See also cybernetics
- Claude Shannon on, 150
  - communication theory, 150–51
  - Cybernetics*, 124, 127
  - influence of, 124, 150–51
  - National Defense Research Committee, 121
  - and the Soviet Union, 275, 283
  - statistical approach, 123
- Wilbur, Ray, 88
- Williams, C. C., 41, 50
- Williams, John, 173
- Wilson, Robert
- applied approach of, 103
  - Competitive Strategies course, 104
  - computer science, 106
  - economic engineering, 85–86
  - game theory, 102–4
  - influence of, 102n24, 103, 108
  - Nonlinear Pricing*, 102
  - at Stanford summer workshops, 100
- Wisnioski, Matthew, 15
- Wold, Herman, 195, 197
- Wolfowitz, Jacob, 171
- World War II. See also National Defense Research Committee
- overview of, 116n2
- Wright, Roy, 51
- Wulwick, Nancy, 117
- Yon, Guillaume, 308
- Young, Allyn, 89
- Young, Edwin, 200
- Zellner, Arnold, 200–204

ISBN-13: 978-1-4780-1162-0

9 781478 011620

Cover Credit:

Photograph by Andreas Feininger, 1942, Farm Security Administration/Office of War Information Photograph Collection, US Library of Congress.