The Journal of Korean Studies

The Journal of Korean Studies is the preeminent journal in its field, publishing high-quality articles in all disciplines in the humanities and social sciences on a broad range of Korea-related topics, both historical and contemporary. The Korean peninsula’s increasing importance in the world has sparked interest in Korea well beyond those whose academic work focuses on Korea. Contributors include scholars conducting transnational work on the Asia-Pacific as well as other sites globally.

Offering a fresh approach to Asian and Asian American studies, positions employs theoretical and multidisciplinary methods to create a provocative forum for vigorous exchange. Through scholarly articles, commentaries, poetry, photo spreads, and political and philosophical debates, contributors consider pressing questions from a striking range of perspectives.

Tani E. Barlow, Senior Editor
Since its establishment in 1945, Archives of Asian Art has been devoted to publishing new scholarship on the art and architecture of South, Southeast, Central, and East Asia. Articles discuss premodern and contemporary visual arts, archaeology, architecture, and the history of collecting. Every issue is fully illustrated, with color plates in the online version, and each fall issue includes an illustrated compendium of recent acquisitions of Asian art by leading museums and collections.

Archives of Asian Art is a publication of Asia Society.
