IN THIS ISSUE

“War Is like a Blanket”: Feminist Convergences in Kurdish and Turkish Women’s Rights Activism for Peace
NADJE AL-ALI and LATIF TAS

Disreputable by Definition: Respectability and Theft by Poor Women in Urban Interwar Egypt
HANAN HAMMAD

Putting Messianic Femininity into Zionist Political Action: The Race-Class and Ideological Normativity of Women for the Temple in Jerusalem
RACHEL Z. FELDMAN

“One Can Veil and Be a Singer!”: Performing Piety on an Iranian Talent Competition
FARZANEH HEMMASI

Special Forum on Trump’s Presidency and Middle East Women’s Studies

FORTHCOMING

“It Used to Be Forbidden”: Kurdish Women Singers and the Limits of Gaining Voice
MARLENE SCHÄFERS

Cruising Baghdad: Desire between Men in the 1930s Fiction of Dhu al-Nun Ayyub
PELLE VALENTIN OLSEN
Winner of the 2017 JMEWS Graduate Student Paper Prize

Aspirational Maternalism and the “Reconstitution” of Single Mothers in Morocco
JESSICA NEWMAN

Thinking Life, Death, and Solidarity through Colonized Palestine: An Interview with Jasbir K. Puar
KATHRYN MEDIEN

Dissident Subjects: In Honor of miriam cooke

BORDERS AND MARGINS
Themed issue prefaced by SARA SMITH