

Editor's Note

Since 2019 Joseph Vignone has served as the tireless managing editor for the Journal of Middle East Women's Studies (JMEWS). Working with two editors in chief, an editorial team that comprises “Third Space” and review editors, and numerous authors, reviewers, and artists, as well as the production team at Duke University Press, Joe has performed this work with exemplary dedication, competence, and aplomb, and we are grateful. It is bittersweet that this is his last issue of nine as he transitions to a new role as assistant professor of history at Gonzaga University—the beginning of what we are certain will be an illustrious scholarly career. We would like to express our deep gratitude to Joe for his countless contributions: JMEWS is a better journal for his efforts.
