The Cornell University ILR School, in collaboration with LAWCHA, is pleased to announce the winner of the 2014 Philip Taft Labor History Award for the best book in American labor and working-class history published in 2013:

Matthew L. Basso

Meet Joe Copper: Masculinity and Race on Montana’s World War II Home Front

University of Chicago Press

For information on nominations for the 2015 Prize, due in by December 15, 2014, please visit the Taft Award website: www.ilr.cornell.edu/taftaward/

Labor and Working Class History Association (LAWCHA) announces the winner of the 2014 Herbert Gutman Prize for Outstanding Dissertation in Labor and Working-class history in 2013:

Jon Shelton

“Against the Public: Teacher Strikes and the Decline of Liberalism, 1968-1981”

(University of Maryland, Advisor: Julie Green)

For details on applying for the 2015 Gutman Prize, please consult www.lawcha.org/grants.php

The deadline is November 30, 2014.
“Working in the Big Easy redresses the longstanding neglect of one of the nation’s most distinctive urban labor sites . . . this book offers a fascinating new look at those who had it less than easy in the Big Easy.”

-Leon Fink, co-editor of Workers Across the Americas

“Working in the Big Easy not only provides rich accounts of discrete cases in the city’s labor history; it is also a significant call for further research as well as a substantive argument that study of New Orleans offers distinctive potential for integrating the fields of urban, labor, political, and ethnic history.”

-Adolph Reed, author of Class Notes
Public Culture

For more than twenty-five years Public Culture has been publishing field-defining ethnographies and analyses of the cultural politics of globalization. Providing a forum for the internationalization of cultural studies, Public Culture has mapped the capital, human, and media flows drawing cities, peoples, and states into transnational relationships and political economies.

Eric Klinenberg, editor

Stay up to date.
Follow the Public Culture RSS feed. For more information, visit publicculture.dukejournals.org.

Subscribe today.
Three issues annually
Online access is included with a print subscription.

Individuals: $38
Students: $25
Single issues: $16

To subscribe, visit dukeupress.edu/publicculture.
A daring and controversial leader in the field of cultural studies, Social Text focuses attention on questions of gender, sexuality, race, and the environment, publishing key works by the most influential social and cultural theorists.

Anna McCarthy, Tavia Nyong’o, and Neferti X. M. Tadiar, editors

Subscribe today.
Quarterly.

Individual: $33
Student: $20
(photocopy of valid student ID required)

To order, please visit dukeupress.edu/socialtext.
For more than a quarter of a century, Radical History Review has stood at the point where rigorous historical scholarship and active political engagement converge.

Articles in RHR address issues of gender, race, sexuality, imperialism, and class, stretching the boundaries of historical analysis to explore Western and non-Western histories.

Subscribe today
(three issues annually)

Online access and e-mail and table-of-contents alerts are available with a print subscription.

Individuals: $35
Students: $22
(photocopy of valid student ID required)

To order, please visit dukeupress.edu/rhr.