The Challenge for the United States in the Post–11 September Era: An Overview

Joseph J. Sisco

Section One:
Breaking Out of the Post–Cold War Era

Constructive Internationalism: An American Foreign Policy for the Early Twenty-First Century

William H. Lewis and Burton M. Sapin

The Critical Nature of U.S. Policy in the Middle East

Stansfield Turner

The Emerging Security Environment:
Preemptive War and International Terrorism after Iraq

Vincent M. Cannistraro

Reflections on an Elective War: Are We Safer Now?

Nikolaos A. Stavrou
Rogue Nations, States of Concern, and Axes of Evil:
Examining the Politics of Disarmament in a Changing Geopolitical Context

Raymond Muhula
76

Section Two:

Picking Up Pieces at Home and Abroad

Restless Empire: Washington’s Goals and Problems in the Islamic Arc

Ted Galen Carpenter
99

Operation Iraqi Freedom and the New Middle East

Bernard Reich
116

Subregional Dynamics in the Western Mediterranean

Stephen C. Calleya
139

Bush’s Wars and the State of Civil Liberties

Ivan Eland
158

North Africa and the War on Terror

Mohamed A. El-Khawas
176