New German Critique
Number 113 • Summer 2011

Ideas in Motion

Issue Editor: Joshua Derman

An Unrelieved Heart: Hegel, Tragedy, and Schiller’s Wallenstein
Lydia Moland .............................................................. 1

Worldly Possessions: Nietzsche’s Texts, American Readers, and the Intimacy and Itinerancy of Ideas
Jennifer Ratner-Rosenhagen ........................................ 25

Max Weber and Charisma: A Transatlantic Affair
Joshua Derman ............................................................. 51

Russian Exiles, New Scientific Movements, and Phenomenology: A History of Philosophical Immigrations in 1930s France
Stefanos Geroulanos ...................................................... 89

What Is Heideggerian Cinema? Film, Philosophy, and Cultural Mobility
Martin Woessner .......................................................... 129

Humboldt Revisited: Liberal Education, University Reform, and the Opposition to the Neoliberal University
Peter Uwe Hohendahl ...................................................... 159