New German Critique

Number 132 • November 2017

Transatlantic Theory Transfer: Missed Encounters?

Special Issue Editors: Andreas Huyssen and Anson Rabinbach

---

Introduction: Transatlantic Theory Transfer: Missed Encounters?
Andreas Huyssen and Anson Rabinbach.
---

What Was Theory? Toward a Generic History
Philipp Felsch
---

Narratives of Theory Transfer
Anna Kinder
---

(Mis)reading the Market?
The Publishing Business and Theory Transfer
Joe Paul Kroll
---

Gershom Scholem and America
Yaacob Dweck
---

The Anonymity of Siegfried Kracauer
Johannes von Moltke
---

Verfehlungen: Hans Blumenberg and the United States
Paul Fleming
---

Against Rigor: Hans Blumenberg on Freud and Arendt
Martin Jay
---

“All Our Theories Are Going to Be Carried Away by History”: Alexander Mitscherlich and American Psychoanalysis
Dagmar Herzog
Koselleck in America
  Stefan-Ludwig Hoffmann  ........................................... 167

Niklas Luhmann
  William Rasch  .......................................................... 189

The Kittler Effect
  Geoffrey Winthrop-Young  ............................................. 205

“Half a Heart and Double Zeal”:
Critical Theory’s Afterlife in the United States
  Robert Zwarg  ............................................................ 225