

Contents

The Economy of Form

NANCY ARMSTRONG AND ROBERTO DAINOTTO	The Economy of Form: An Introduction	161
SCOTT R. MACKENZIE	The Scarcities of Udolpho	180
SARAH COMYN	“Too Domestic to Admit of Calculation”: Jane Austen and Narrative Economics	200
AMANPAL GARCHA	Emma’s Choices: Economics and Modern Narratives of Decision-Making	218
AVIVA BRIEFEL	Ride-Sharing with Little Nell: The Gig Economy of Charles Dickens’s The Old Curiosity Shop	240
SARAH KIMMET	Economic Ecosystems and Postcapitalist Futures in The Professor’s House	263
MARIUS HENTEA	Finding the Center: Mrs Dalloway’s Bureaucrats and State Centralization	283
MICHAEL MCGURK	Beckett’s Big House: Watt , Waste, and the Fiction of Irish Autonomy	305
JACOB SOULE	The End of the City and the Coming of the Urban: Georges Perec’s An Attempt at Exhausting a Place in Paris	324
CHRISTINE OKOTH	The Missing Matter of Revolution: Hydroelectricity and the Terrain of Postcolonial Politics	339
RYAN TRIMM	Capital Fictions in the Age of Fictitious Capital	360

Call for Papers

Society for Novel Studies Biennial Conference: The Novel and the Archive	380
---	-----