Twentieth-Century Literature

New to Duke University Press in 2015!

Focusing on literary-cultural production emerging from or responding to the twentieth century, broadly construed, Twentieth-Century Literature offers essays, grounded in a variety of approaches, that interrogate and enrich the ways we understand the literary cultures of the times. The journal considers how those cultures are bound up with the crucial intellectual, social, aesthetic, political, economic, and environmental developments that have shaped the early twenty-first century.

Approaches to Teaching
The Story of the Stone (Dream of the Red Chamber)

Edited by Andrew Schonebaum and Tina Lu

“A truly instructive volume of diverse studies on a range of subjects that does justice to the novel’s own representational diversity and plenitude of culture.”
—Anthony C. Yu
University of Chicago

The Story of the Stone (or Dream of the Red Chamber), a Chinese novel by Cao Xueqin and continued by Gao E, tells of an amazing garden, of a young man’s choice between two beautiful women, of his journey toward enlightenment, and of the moral and financial decline of a powerful family. Published in 1792, it depicts virtually every facet of life in eighteenth-century China—and has influenced culture in China ever since.

Approaches to Teaching
Austen’s Mansfield Park

Marcia McClintock Folsom and John Wiltshire, eds.

“The scope is admirable, and the volume makes a valuable addition to Austen scholarship and pedagogy.”
—Laura White
John E. Weaver Professor of English University of Nebraska, Lincoln

This volume is the third in the MLA Approaches series to deal with Austen’s work.

It provides information about Mansfield Park editions, film adaptations, and digital resources.

Essays discuss various aspects of the novel, including the slave trade, the theme of reading, elements of tragedy, gift theory, landscape design, moral improvement in the spirit of Samuel Johnson and of the Reformation, sibling relations, card playing, and interpretations of Fanny Price, the heroine, not as passive but as having some control.
