Special Issue: Reading
Guest Editors: Mariolina Rizzi Salvatori and Patricia Donahue

Guest Editors’ Introduction: Guest Editing as a Form of Disciplinary Probing | Mariolina Rizzi Salvatori and Patricia Donahue  1

Articles

Creating Mindful Readers in First-Year Composition Courses: A Strategy to Facilitate Transfer | Ellen C. Carillo  9

The Critical Place of Reading in Writing Transfer (and Beyond): A Report of Student Experiences | Tara Lockhart and Mary Soliday  23

Imitatio Reconsidered: Notes toward a Reading Pedagogy for the Writing Classroom | Elizabeth Kalbfleisch  39

Reimagining Workshop: Recognizing and Expanding the Role of Reading | Michael Bunn  53

The Line That Should Not Be Drawn: Writing Centers as Reading Centered | G. Travis Adams  73

Timely, Impure Reading: After a Decade of Books on How to Read | Stephen Sutherland  91

Identification, Affect, and Escape: Theorizing Popular Romance Reading | Stephanie Moody  105

A Genre-Based Approach to Digital Reading | Janine Morris  125

Unpacking the Universal Library: Digital Reading and the Recirculation of Economic Value | Mike Edwards  137

On Digital Reading | Richard E. Miller  153
From the Classroom

Making African American History in the Classroom: The Pedagogy of Processing Undervalued Archives | Mollie Godfrey 165

Literary Flowers: Using a Literary Garden in the Western Literature Survey to “Plant” Formative Voices and to “Sow” Final Narratives | Shawn Rubenfeld 178

Contributors 187