In the next issue of Poetics Today—

Special Cluster: Why, How and Where Literature?
Tamar Hager and Omri Herzog, Guest Editors

Introduction: Why, How and Where Literature?
The Guest Editors

The End of Literature, or: What Purposes Does It Continue to Serve?
Itamar Even-Zohar, Tel Aviv University
Elias Torres Feijó, University of Santiago de Compostela
Antonio Monegal, Pompeu Fabra University, Barcelona

“If They Cannot Take It Straight, They Will Get It in Fiction”: The Power of Literature
Tamar Hager, Tel Hai College, Israel

From the Margins of the Neoliberal University: Notes Towards a Nomadic Literary Studies
Neil Vallelly, University of Otago

The Discipline of Literature as Superfluity
Hanna Soker Schwager, Department of Hebrew Literature, Ben Gurion University

Talmud as Novel: Dialogic Discourse and the Feminine Voice in the Babylonian Talmud
Moshe Simon-Shoshan, Bar-Ilan University

Expressive Realism and the Phenomenological Turn: A Canon for Postcritical Literary Studies
Matthew Flaherty, Bard High School Early College, Baltimore

Book Review
Edited by Eyal Segal

New Books at a Glance
Edited by Eyal Segal

Notes on Contributors