After #Ferguson, After #Baltimore: The Challenge of Black Death and Black Life for Black Political Thought

An issue of South Atlantic Quarterly (116:3)
Barnor Hesse and Juliet Hooker, issue editors

Drawing primarily on the US #blacklivesmatter movement, contributors to this issue come to terms with the crisis in the meaning of black politics during the post–civil rights era as evidenced by the unknown trajectories of black protests. The authors' timely essays frame black protests and the implications of contemporary police killings of black people as symptomatic of a crisis in black politics within the white limits of liberal democracy.
