Controversies

Figures of the Subject in Times of Crisis
Achille Mbembe and Janet Roitman

Thinking through Transnationalism: Notes on the Cultural Politics of Class Relations in the Contemporary United States
Roger Rouse

Postmodernism and Cultural Politics in a Multicultural Nation:
Contests over Truth in the Into the Heart of Africa Controversy
Eva Mackey

Present Absentee: Arab Music in Israeli Culture
Motti Regev

Comment

A Borderline Monument
Karl Eysenbach

Manaus: Television from the Borderless
James Schwoch

AIDS and the Arts of Conversation
Chris Healy

Cover: Abandoned museum on the border of the Mexican states, Baja California and Baja California Sur. Built as part of a monument commemorating the completion of the Trans-Baja highway in 1977, the museum bifurcates the road. The highway stretches from San Diego in the United States to Cabo San Lucas at the southern end of the Baja peninsula in Mexico. Photo by Karl Eysenbach.