From Slavery to Feudalism
Pierre Bonnassie

This book is first and foremost an extended examination and discussion of the enslavement of men and women by others of their society, and in particular of the means and causes of the gradual end of slavery in early medieval Europe between 500 and 1200. The author places new findings about subjection, servitude and lordship in relation to the prevailing understanding of social history that has developed since the work of Marc Bloch.

Past and Present Publications
Copublished with the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme
36324-1 Hardcover $64.95

Now in paperback . . .
Winner of the 1990 Phillip Taft Labor History Award and the 1991 Bancroft Prize
Making a New Deal
Industrial Workers in Chicago, 1919-1939
Lizabeth Cohen

"It is at moments like this that new perspectives on the past, like Lizabeth Cohen's in Making a New Deal: Industrial Workers in Chicago, 1919-1939, are particularly welcome . . . She reaches beyond narrow specialties historians still indulge in . . . to draw on the insights and methodologies of community studies, ethnic histories, gender studies, political history (new and old), cultural criticism and social history."
— David Nasaw, The Nation
38134-7 Hardcover $29.95
42838-6 Paper $15.95

Now in paperback . . .
Working Class Americanism
The Politics of Labor in a Textile City, 1914-1960
Gary Gerstle

"[Gerstle] uses the method [of social history] with striking originality to tackle the thorny question of Americanism . . . Scintillating." — Alan Dawley, The Nation
"The most provocative account of working-class politics in the 1930s and 1940s." —The Journal of American History
Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Modern History
36131-1 Hardcover $47.95
42461-5 Paper $14.95

The Jew Accused
Three Anti-Semitic Affairs — Dreyfus, Beilis, Frank—1894-1915
Albert S. Lindemann

"He is especially good at showing the mixed motives of both the accusers and the defenders. He also deftly portrays the historical background and ideological forces. This account is well written and detailed." — Library Journal
"Throughout the book, Mr. Lindemann, making use of contemporary documents, provides a vivid sense of people and of the period." — The New Yorker
40302-2 Hardcover $27.95

Nature Incorporated
Industrialization and the Waters of New England
Theodore Steinberg

The author offers a reinterpretation of industrialization that centers on the struggle to control and master nature. Focusing on the legendary Waltham-Lowell style mills, this book examines how these textile factories brought water under their exclusive control. It examines the legal issues that arose in settling disputes over water, and describes the ecological consequences of industrial change.

Studies in Environment and History
39215-2 Hardcover $34.50

Geopolitics and Geoculture
Essays on the Changing World System
Immanuel Wallerstein

Written between 1982 and 1989, the essays in this volume offer Wallerstein's perspective on the events of the period, and the background to his interpretation of the momentous events of 1989.

Studies in Modern Capitalism
Copublished with the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme
40454-1 Hardcover $39.95
40604-8 Paper $12.95

Available in bookstores or write:
CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS
40 West 20th Street, New York, NY 10011-4211.
Call toll-free 800-872-7423.
MasterCard/VISA accepted.
VARIATIONS ON A THEME PARK

THE NEW AMERICAN CITY AND THE END OF PUBLIC SPACE

MICHAEL SORKIN

"A fascinating account of the various kinds of manipulated but very real places in America today, this book is a model of cultural richness, strong critique, and vibrant history."
—Gwendolyn Wright

"This is the Blade Runner of urban analysis, the rapier at the end of the rainbow, the autopsy of a future already over—unless, perhaps, everyone who loves cities reads this book."
—Todd Gitlin

"This is an important book... a complex portrait of a new kind of urban space that expresses new forces of repression in modern society."
—Richard Sennett

Hill and Wang
A Division of Farrar, Straus and Giroux
Available at bookstores now, or call 1-800-631-8371
David G. Sweet is associate professor of history and past chair of the program in Latin American studies at the University of California, Santa Cruz. His research has been focused on the histories of colonial Amazonia and the Philippines, and twentieth-century Nicaragua. With Gary B. Nash he edited Struggle and Survival in Colonial America (Berkeley, 1981; expanded Spanish edition, Mexico City, 1987). In 1983–1985, he served as midwife and wet nurse for the birth and early infancy of Witness for Peace.