Taking Sides:
The Role of Visual Culture in Situations of War, Occupation, and Resistance

Editors’ Introduction
Lisa Brock, Conor McGrady, Teresa Meade

FEATURES

Reclaiming the Nation through Public Murals: Maya Resistance and the Reinterpretation of History
David Carey Jr. and Walter E. Little

History and the Challenge of Photography in Bertolt Brecht’s Kriegsfibel
Kristopher Imbrigotta

Representations of Conflict: Images of War, Resistance, and Identity in Palestinian Art
K. Luisa Gandolfo

Filming Resistance: A Hezbollah Strategy
Walid el Houri and Dima Saber

Imagining Militarism: Art Young and The Masses Face the Enemy
Michael Cohen

Social Violence, Political Conflict, and Latin American Film:
The Politics of Place in the “Cinema of Allende”
Camilo D. Trumper
Facing Off: Photography, Physiognomy, and National Identity in the Modern German Photobook
Leesa Rittelmann

INTERVIEWS

Unbowed and Unbroken: A Conversation with Irish Republican Visual Artist Danny Devenny
Jack Conway

CURATED SPACES

Meir Gal

(RE)VIEWS

Let Us Not Call Them Graphic Novels: Comic Books as Biography and History
Ian Gordon

Unexpected Concatenations
David Ogawa

Art on the Front Lines: Contemporary Artists and Politics
Johanna Gosse

REMEMBRANCE

Cecil Skotnes, 1926–2009
Andor Skotnes

Notes on Contributors