Historicizing 9/11

Editors’ Introduction

Andor Skotnes and Jim O’Brien

Historical Reflections

The Contested Meaning of 9/11

Jim O’Brien

September 11, the War on Terror, and Perpetual Warfare: An RHR Interview with Andrew Bacevich

Paul L. Atwood

The FBI and the Making of the Terrorist Threat

Ivan Greenberg

Public Spaces

Remembering 9/11’s Pentagon Victims and Reframing History in Arlington National Cemetery

Micki McElyea

Speaking Memory, Building History: The Influence of Victims’ Families at the World Trade Center Site

Linda Levitt
TESTIMONIES AND ARCHIVES

Herodotus Reconsidered: An Oral History of September 11, 2001, in New York City
Mary Marshall Clark 79

Can the Diaspora Speak? Afghan Americans and the 9/11 Oral History Archive
Ann Cvetkovich 90

The September 11 Digital Archive: Saving the Histories of September 11, 2001
Stephen Brier and Joshua Brown 101

CURATED SPACES

Introduction to an Index
Chitra Ganesh and Mariam Ghani 110

VISUAL REPRESENTATIONS

“The Most Disturbing Aspects”: Apprehending Public Reaction to Photographs of the 9/11 Jumpers
Jaclyn Kirouac-Fram 131

New York City, 9/11, and Comics
Kent Worcester 139

9/11 on the Screen: Giving Memory and Meaning to All That “Howling Space” at Ground Zero
Thomas Riegler 155

Enjoying 9/11: The Pleasures of Cloverfield
James Stone 167

LITERARY RESONANCES

Literary Lions Tackle 9/11: Updike and DeLillo Depicting History through the Novel
Bob Batchelor 175
The Depiction of 9/11 in Literature: The Role of Images and Intermedial References
Sonia Baelo-Allué

184

The Dan Brown Phenomenon: Conspiracism in Post-9/11 Popular Fiction
Matthew Schneider-Mayerson

194

UK REFLECTIONS

9/11 and the United Kingdom
Jeffrey R. Kerr-Ritchie

203

9/11 and the Increase in Racism and Islamophobia: A Personal Reflection
Amir Saeed

210

TEACHING 9/11

“Get Your War On”: Teaching the Post-9/11
Jeffrey Melnick

217

Teaching 9/11: Lessons from Classrooms in the United States and Pakistan
Magid Shihade

225

RETROSPECTIVE

The First Eight Years of Life during Wartime, 2003–2011
Joshua Brown (introduction by Andor Skotnes)

233

Notes on Contributors

256