Walkers, Voyeurs, and the Politics of Urban Space

Editors’ Introduction: Undoing the Flaneur
Robyn Autry and Daniel J. Walkowitz

Reflections

Eye on the Street: Photography in Urban Public Spaces
Jennifer Tucker

On Walkers and Wheelchairs: Disabling the Narratives of Urban Modernity
David Serlin

From Communism to Capitalism, from Production to Consumption:
The Case of the Bilshovyk Plant and Shopping Center in Kyiv
Anastasiya Ryabchuk and Natalia Onyshchenko

Features

Capitalism in the Streets: Paris Shopkeepers, Passages Couverts, and the Production of the Early Nineteenth-Century City
Ralph Kingston

Revolutionary Transubstantiation in “The Republic of Students”:
Death Commemoration in Urban Guatemala from 1977 to the Present
Heather Vrana

Socialization and the City: Parental Authority and Teenage Rebellion in Wilhelmine Germany
Eva Giloi
Against “the Eviction of the Pedestrian”: The Pedestrians’ Association and Walking Practices in Urban Britain after World War II
Barbara Schmucki

Being Moved (On): The Biopolitics of Walking in Australia’s Frontier Towns
Tess Lea, Martin Young, Francis Markham, Catherine Holmes, and Bruce Doran

(RE)VIEW
Traffic Logic and Political Logic
Don Mitchell

TEACHING RADICAL HISTORY
Catch My Drift? Situationist Dérive and Urban Pedagogy
Elihu Rubin

INTERVIEW
Walking the Elastic City: Total Detroit: An Interview with Todd Shalom and Niegel Smith
Hillary Miller

CURATED SPACES
Layered SPURA: Spurring Conversations Through Visual Urbanism
Gabrielle Bendiner-Viani

Notes on Contributors