Service Learning and Literary Studies in English

Edited by
LAURIE GROBMAN and
ROBERTA ROSENBERG

“This is a groundbreaking anthology of new research and practice in the engaged humanities. Readers will find a rich intellectual debate on strategies for growing the public humanities and for renewing the contribution of literary studies to higher education’s mission to strengthen democracy and imbue students with a thoughtful commitment to civic engagement.”

—Gregory Jay
University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee

Service learning can help students develop a sense of civic responsibility while addressing pressing community needs. Student collaboration with community partners brings social awareness to the study of literary texts and helps students and teachers engage literature in new ways.

The Latin America Readers

67 illustrations (incl. 14 in color), paper, $24.95

"Carlos Aguirre and Charles F. Walker, two leading scholars of Peru, bring their vast expertise to decoding one of this hemisphere's great cities. Lima is an intriguing, intimidating, pulsing tangle of a metropolis at the desert's gray ocean edge. The Lima Reader is the single best book for anyone seeking to understand the city in the almost dizzying impossibility of its remarkable history and culture."

Stuart Hall: Selected Writings

12 illustrations, hardcover, $29.95

"The publication of Familiar Stranger is truly an event. Contemplative and incisive, heart-wrenching and hilarious, profound and thought-provoking, the book demonstrates why Stuart Hall was our most brilliant thinker on identity and struggle, and why in the age of Brexit and Trumpism he is sorely missed.... For those unfamiliar with Hall, this book ought to be the starting point."
