The Fergusonian Field: Essays in Memory of Priscilla Parkhurst Ferguson (1940–2018)

MASHA BELENKY, CAROLYN BETENSKY, and SUSAN HINER, Guest Editors

Introduction: The Fergusonian Field
MASHA BELENKY, CAROLYN BETENSKY, and SUSAN HINER

Histories of Reading

Signifying Difference: Reading Balzac and Sand / Writing Balzac and Sand
ALEXANDRA K. WETTLAUFER

Reading Exercises: French Literature in the Classroom
GEOFFREY TUNOVSKY

Cities and City-Dwellers

Voices Carry: Jeanne Marni’s Urban Comic
CHERYL A. MORGAN

“The City of Combat”: Reading Jules Vallès’s Tableau de Paris with Priscilla Parkhurst Ferguson’s Paris as Revolution
CATHERINE NESCI

Food Cultures

The House of Harlequins: Les Mystères de Paris and Eugène Sue
JANET BEIZER

112:2 • SEPTEMBER 2021
Text Puréed or in Patches: Alimentary Metaphors for Press Practices
CARY HOLLINSHEAD-STRICK

Identity and Memory

Food Fears: From Proust to Perec, Madeleine to Anti-madeleine
PRIYA WADHERA

Learning to Eat French
JOHN WESTBROOK

Afterword

Roses and Everyday Beauty in France
PRISCILLA PARKHURST FERGUSON