Extent and Nature of Circulation

Average number of copies of each issue published during the preceding twelve months: (A) total number of copies printed, 464; (B.1) paid/requested mail subscriptions, 222; (C) total paid/requested circulation, 234; (D.1) samples, complimentary, and other nonrequested copies, 31; (D.4) nonrequested copies distributed through the USPS by other classes of mail, 12; (E) total nonrequested distribution (sum of D.1 & D.4), 43; (F) total distribution (sum of C & E), 277; (G) copies not distributed (office use, leftover, unaccounted, spoiled after printing, returns from news agents), 211; (H) total (sum of F & G), 488.

Actual number of copies of a single issue published nearest to filing date: (A) total number of copies printed, 600; (B.1) paid/requested mail subscriptions, 220; (C) total paid/requested circulation, 232; (D.1) samples, complimentary, and other nonrequested copies, 40; (D.4) nonrequested copies distributed through the USPS by other classes of mail, 12; (E) total nonrequested distribution (sum of D.1 & D.4), 52; (F) total distribution (sum of C & E), 284; (G) copies not distributed (office use, leftover, unaccounted, spoiled after printing, returns from news agents), 340; (H) total (sum of F & G), 430.
Bobby Benedicto is an Andrew W. Mellon Postdoctoral Fellow at McGill University. He is the author of Bright Lights, Gay Globality: Mobility and Gay Life in Twenty-First-Century Manila, forthcoming from the University of Minnesota Press. He is currently preparing a book manuscript titled “Paramodern Futures: Queer Space, Modern Ruins, and Dictatorship Architecture.”

Mangalika de Silva’s writing traverses ethnography and political philosophy and is concerned with the ontology of democracy, sovereignty, and minoritization. She is a recipient of the Rubicon Post-Doctoral Social Science Fellowship. Her book in process is titled “Uncountable Di-visibilitys: On Minoritarian Insovereignty.”

Les W. Field is professor of anthropology at the University of New Mexico. In South, Central, and North America, and now in Palestine, his research has focused on establishing collaborative relationships with communities concerning the goals, methods, agendas, products, and epistemologies of anthropological work. He received his PhD from Duke University in 1987.

Alex Lubin is associate professor of American studies at the American University of Beirut and on leave from the University of New Mexico. He is the author of Geographies of Liberation: The Making of an Afro-Arab Political Imaginary, forthcoming from the University of North Carolina Press.

Jakob Schiller is a reporter, photographer, and multimedia producer who has worked extensively in Palestine. His work has appeared in Mother Jones, the New York Times, and Wired and can be found online at AlJazeera.com.

Jesse Weaver Shipley, associate professor of anthropology at Haverford College, is an ethnographer and artist. His interests include popular culture, urban life, and media. His works include the book Living the Hiplife: Celebrity and Entrepreneurship in Ghanaian Popular Music (Duke University Press, 2013); the film Living the Hiplife: Musical Life in the Streets of Accra (Third World Newsreel, 2007); and the video installation Black Star (2012).
Melanie K. Yazzie (Diné) is a doctoral candidate in American studies at the University of New Mexico. She specializes in critical indigenous studies, the politics of intimacy, and violence. She recently published a single-authored article on the politics of Navajo water rights in Wicazo Sa Review 28, no. 1.