On Entrepreneurship: Immaterial Labor and Subjectivity in the Twenty-First Century
Imre Szeman and Dan Harvey, Special Issue Editors

Entrepreneurship as the New Common Sense  471
Imre Szeman

Investing in the Cruel Entrepreneurial University  491
Miranda Joseph

Entrepreneurial Journalism and the Precarious State of Media Work  513
Nicole S. Cohen

The Factory of Individuation:
Cultural Labor and Class Composition in the Metropolis  535
Stevphen Shukaitis and Joanna Figiel

The Entrepreneurial Subject and the Objectivization of the Self in Social Media  553
Matthew Flisfeder

Wages against Artwork: The Social Practice of Decommodification  571
Leigh Claire La Berge

Sovereigns of Risk: The Birth of the Ontopreneur  595
Andrew Pendakis

“The Property-less Sensorium”: Following the Subject in Crisis Times  611
Melanie Gilligan and Marina Vishmidt

Entrepreneurial U, or Bildung in the Ruins  631
Dan Harvey
AGAINST the DAY

Israeli Jews Address the Palestinian Boycott Call

Adi Ophir, Editor

The Challenge of the BDS  652
Adi Ophir

BDS Is As Good As It Gets  662
Dov Michaeli

On the Law, Politics, and Ethics of the BDS  670
Itamar Mann

Where Do You Draw the Line?  680
Galit Eilat

“We,” Palestinians and Jewish Israelis:
The Right Not to Be a Perpetrator  687
Ariella Azoulay

Notes on Contributors  694