After #Ferguson, After #Baltimore:
The Challenge of Black Death and Black Life for Black Political Thought
Barnor Hesse and Juliet Hooker, Special Issue Editors

Introduction: On Black Political Thought inside Global Black Protest  443
Barnor Hesse and Juliet Hooker

An Exoneration of Black Rage  457
Debra Thompson

Black Protest / White Grievance: On the Problem of White Political Imaginations Not Shaped by Loss  483
Juliet Hooker

Black Radical Possibility and the Decolonial International  505
John D. Márquez and Junaid Rana

Black Lives Matter and the Limits of Formal Black Politics  529
Minkah Makalani

North American Necropolitics and Gender: On #BlackLivesMatter and Black Femicide  553
Shatema Threadcraft

White Sovereignty ( . . . ), Black Life Politics: “The Nr They Couldn’t Kill”  581
Barnor Hesse
AGAINST the DAY

Unrecognizable: On Trans Recognition in 2017
Aren Aizura, Editor

Introduction  606
Aren Aizura

Anti-Trans Optics: Recognition, Opacity, and the Image of Force  612
Eric A. Stanley

Certificates of Live Birth and Dead Names:
On the Subject of Recent Anti-Trans Legislation  621
Amanda Armstrong

Transfeminine Brokenness, Radical Transfeminism  632
Nat Raha

Notes on Contributors  647