issue 68

the minnesota review
The date of publication of n.s. 68 is Spring 2007.

Address all submissions to the relevant editor (e.g., Fiction Editor). All manuscripts should be typed and double-spaced. Photocopies OK. Essays and reviews should be prepared according to the MLA Handbook (with Works Cited) and submitted in duplicate. Please enclose SASE; manuscripts without proper postage will not be returned. No email submissions.

The Minnesota Review is published twice a year, in the Spring and Fall. Subscription rates are $60/year for institutions. For individuals, we offer a special introductory rate of $30 for two years (foreign add $5). Single and back issues, if available, are $15 postpaid.

The Minnesota Review is available for bookstore distribution through B. DeBoer, 113 E. Centre St., Nutley, NJ 07110 and Ubiquity Distributors, 607 Degraw St., Brooklyn, NY 11217. University Microfilms of Ann Arbor, MI 48106, is authorized to provide microfilm copies of new and back issues.

This journal is indexed in Annual Bibliography of English Language and Literature (ABELL), Humanities International Complete, and MLA International Bibliography. The Minnesota Review is a member of CELJ. ISSN 0026 5667.

© 2007 The Minnesota Review
Jeffrey J. Williams, Department of English
Carnegie Mellon University, Baker Hall
Pittsburgh, PA 15213
www.theminnesotareview.org
editors@theminnesotareview.org
Contents 68

Poetry
- Sarah Sarai  Further Arguments ................................................................. 5
- Tam Lin Neville  Black Out ........................................................................ 6
- Shaindel Beers  “HA!” .................................................................................. 7
  The Thermophobic’s Wife ........................................................................... 8
- Adam Shechter  On Actively Halting Nostalgia ............................................. 9
- Bryan Tso Jones  The Lesson from the Boy’s Mother .................................... 10
- Tom Wayman  Employment Application .................................................... 11

Poems from the “Being at Work” Poetry Challenge
- Linda Lee Crosfield  A Good Place to Start .................................................. 14
- Gary Geddes  Ladies & Escorts .................................................................... 15
- Susan McMaster  At Midnight Talks Failed .................................................. 16
- Peggy Smith Duke  Strike ............................................................................ 17
- Joan Mazza  Check Out Girl ......................................................................... 18
- Anne Baldo  you’re not just an innocent check-out girl .................................. 20
- Paul Tyler  Feeding Rena ............................................................................. 21
- Lea Harper  Maid to Order ......................................................................... 22
- Susan Keith  Tombstones ............................................................................ 23
- Cindy Dean-Morrison  marketable skills ...................................................... 25
- Alisa Gordaneer  resignation fantasy ........................................................... 27

Fiction
- Mark Jacob  Sniff ....................................................................................... 29
- Ingrid Satelmajer  House Tour .................................................................. 35
- Chris Gavaler  Bury the Survivors .............................................................. 41

Interviews
- Who’s Extremist?: An Interview with Noam Chomsky ............................... 55
- Fiction in Exile: An Interview with Farnoosh Moshiri ................................. 67
- A Memoir of Feminism: An Interview with Nancy K. Miller ....................... 75
- The Work of Production in the Age of Theory: An Interview with James Schamus ................................. 91
Revaluations

John H. Summers  The Epigone’s Embrace:
Irving Louis Horowitz on C. Wright Mills  ........................................107

Lennard J. Davis  Edward Said’s Battle for Humanism  ....................125

Robin J. Sowards  Why Everyone Should Study Linguistics  ..........137

Surveying the Field

Amardeep Singh  Republics of the Imagination (on Farnoosh Moshiri and others) .........................................................................................147

Benjamin Aldes Wurgaft  Within Sight of Syracuse (on Collini’s Absent Minds, Lilla’s The Reckless Mind, Said’s Humanism and Democratic Criticism, and Warner’s “Styles of Intellectual Publics”) ..........................................................................................159

Books for Review ............................................................................167

Contributors’ Notes ........................................................................171