Submissions
Send articles by e-mail to phil-review@cornell.edu. In the e-mail, include the title of the article, the author’s name and postal address, and the author’s institutional affiliation. If submitting a paper manuscript, send only one copy to Philosophical Review, Cornell University, 217 Goldwin Smith, Ithaca, NY 14853-4601. The manuscript will not be returned unless accompanied by a postage-paid envelope.

Manuscripts must not have been published previously, in part or in whole, or be under consideration for publication elsewhere. Neither the author’s name nor the author’s affiliation should be included in the manuscript, and any acknowledgments or references to the author’s own work should not reveal the author’s identity. Any prefatory or explanatory remarks intended for the editors or readers must be given anonymously, not in the cover letter. Manuscripts submitted by members of the Cornell department are accepted only on the recommendation of an outside referee.

Double-space all text, including extracts and notes; all pages must be numbered and have margins of at least one inch on all sides. Manuscripts chosen for publication must eventually conform to The Chicago Manual of Style, 16th ed., but for the initial review any clear and consistent citation style is acceptable.
