Submissions

Authors submitting manuscripts should go to our web-based submissions system at www.philosophy.cornell.edu/philreview and create an account and upload the paper there. There is a text box for comments or questions.

Manuscripts must not have been published previously, in part or in whole, or be under consideration for publication elsewhere. Neither the author’s name nor the author’s affiliation should be included in the manuscript, and any acknowledgments or references to the author’s own work should not reveal the author’s identity. Any prefatory or explanatory remarks intended for the editors or readers must be given anonymously, not in the cover letter. Manuscripts submitted by members of the Cornell department are accepted only on the recommendation of outside referees.

The Philosophical Review practices a system of triple-anonymous review. Most manuscripts that pass initial editorial review are sent to external referees; very few are still refereed in-house. For more information on the manuscript review process, please see our editorial policies for authors, available on the website.

Double-space all text, including extracts and notes; all pages must be numbered and have margins of at least one inch on all sides. Please use a 12-point font size. We accept papers in PDF; we do not currently accept documents submitted in LaTeX, Word, or RTF. Please be sure to include an abstract of approximately 150 words at the top of the paper. There is no set maximum for paper length; however, authors are generally discouraged from submitting papers that exceed sixty double-spaced pages. Manuscripts chosen for publication must eventually conform to The Chicago Manual of Style, seventeenth edition, but for the initial review any clear and consistent citation style is acceptable.

Book Reviews

Book reviews: Unsolicited book reviews are not accepted. Publishers and authors may send books to be considered for review to Book Review Editor, Philosophical Review, Cornell University, 217 Goldwin Smith Hall, Ithaca, NY 14853-4601. The Philosophical Review generally does not respond to publisher or author inquiries about books for possible review, nor do we generally solicit specific books for review.
IN THIS ISSUE

Bounded Modality
Matthew Mandelkern

Hopes, Fears, and Other Grammatical Scarecrows
Jacob M. Nebel

BOOK REVIEWS