5 Settler Judaism: The Destructive Idol Worship of Our Time
What would be the Ten Commandments of the pro-Israel Judaism used to justify the summer 2014 attacks on Gaza? Our imagined version of their new idolatry contrasts with the Judaism of Love and Generosity we promote.

POLITICS & SOCIETY

7 Silencing Dissent: How Biased Civil Rights Policies Stifle Dialogue on Israel | CHIP BERLET AND MARIA PLANANSKY
The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights is suppressing legitimate criticisms of Israel.

RETHINKING RELIGION

9 A New Take on the First Commandment: Building the Religious Counterculture | ANA LEVY-LYONS
If we worship anything, it should be the power of liberation. The first commandment warns us away from wealth, status, and other false gods.

11 Between Paradigm Shift Judaism and Neo-Hasidism: The New Metaphysics of Jewish Renewal | SHAUL MAGID
Led by Reb Zalman, the Jewish Renewal movement ushered in a new Aquarian Age of Judaism. To make it stick, we need to talk metaphysics. Plus: a response by Rabbi Zalman Schachter-Shalomi (z”l) written in the last days of his life gives insight into how our great teacher saw his life’s work (page 16).

SPECIAL SECTION: JUBILEE & DEBT ABOLITION  page 17

18 Sabbatical Year and Jubilee in Twenty-First-Century America | MICHAEL LERNER
A campaign to reinstitute the Sabbatical Year and Jubilee in industrial societies could fundamentally transform the global capitalist system.

22 Adapting Ancient Ethical Principles in Modern Times | DAVID KORTEN
How might we update the Bible’s call for the periodic redistribution of wealth? Could we use estate taxes to create a trust fund for every child?

23 Jubilee on Wall Street: Taking the Bull by the Horns | SHANE CLAIBORNE
How to commit wild and joyful acts of Jubilee every day.

26 Reimagining Jubilee: A Political Horizon for Our Times | PAMELA BROWN
Economic forms of Jim Crow continue to exist throughout the credit industry today. A modern call for Jubilee would seek to level the racial playing field.
28 You Are Not a Loan: Strike Debt and the Emerging Debtors Movement | Hannah Appel
Let’s “come out” as debtors and start experiencing our debts collectively.

31 Power Without the King: The Debt Strike as Credible Threat
Paul Hampton
If we want to abolish debt, we’ll have to do it ourselves. If debtors refuse to pay, our debts cease being our problem—they become the bank’s problem!

35 Buddhism and Debt | Alex Caring-Lobel
What resources does Buddhism offer toward Jubilee? To achieve the Buddhist goal of release from karmic debt, we must annul economic debt.

37 A Religious Movement to End Predatory Payday Lending
Rachel Hope Anderson
Interfaith coalitions have much to offer in the fight against abusive loans.

39 Transcending Market Logic: Envisioning a Global Gift Economy
Genevieve Vaughan
The act of mothering shatters the market-based expectation of equal exchange.

41 Debt Forgiveness: Who Owes Whom for What?
Nancy Holmstrom
Most debtors have committed no wrongs, so what is called for is liberation—not forgiveness. The colossal, valid debt that remains is climate debt.

42 Building an International Bank for Right Livelihood
Joel Magnuson
It’s time to create an alternative to the World Bank and International Monetary Fund—a global bank that prioritizes sustainability, not growth.

44 Embracing the Radical Economics of the Bible | Marcus Borg
The spirit of the Jubilee laws is clear and relevant: to prevent the emergence of a permanently impoverished underclass.
