The first introductory textbook for transgender/trans studies at the undergraduate level

INTRODUCTION TO TRANSGENDER STUDIES
by Ardel Haefele-Thomas, PhD
with the participation of Thatcher Combs
Foreword by Susan Stryker

This is the first introductory textbook intended for courses in transgender/trans studies at the undergraduate level. It can easily be used in LGBTQ, queer, and gender/feminist studies.

Written by an accomplished teacher with experience in a wide variety of higher learning institutions, it explores not only contemporary transgender issues and experiences but also the history of gender diversity around the world.

It encompasses and connects global contexts, intersecting identities, historic and contemporary issues, literature, politics, art, and culture.

Ardel Haefele-Thomas embraces the richness of intersecting identities—how race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, class, nation, religion, and ability have cross-influenced to shape the transgender experience and trans culture across and beyond the binary.

Going Stealth
Transgender Politics and U.S. Surveillance Practices
TOBY BEAUCHAMP

“This innovative book is an important contribution to both trans studies and surveillance studies—particularly to analyses of the War on Terror, border enforcement, and identity documentation.... Making several critical interventions in trans studies and trans advocacy, this book addresses the ways that whiteness and immigration status are often assumed characteristics of trans subjecthood.”—Dean Spade

Mobile Subjects
Transnational Imaginaries of Gender Reassignment
AREN Z. AIZURA

“‘Trans-.’ The prefix itself denotes movement and boundary-crossing, and in this provocative new book Aren Z. Aizura deploys the rich metaphorics of mobility to interrogate how ‘transgender,’ as both critical concept and lived identity, moves across scales and locations, from the individual to the geopolitical.”—Susan Stryker
